The Series RNT DNB-1 RentalTokens have not been, and will not be, registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Accordingly, the Series RNT DNB-1 RentalTokens are being offered and sold only (i) to “accredited investors” (as defined in Rule 501 of Regulation D under the Securities Act) in reliance on Regulation D under the Securities Act and (ii) in offshore transactions to persons other than “U.S. persons” (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act) in reliance upon Regulation S under the Securities Act. relevant thereto.

THE COMPANY

Overview

Reental America Series LLC has created a system for tokenizing both real property and promissory agreements that allows a token holder to purchase and retain most legal rights and protections that are provided by traditional ownership of both real estate and promissory agreements. This RentalToken system utilizes a series of limited liability companies (“LLCs”) as an intermediary entity between a token-owning individual and a piece of real estate property or promissory agreement. Ownership of a series of the LLC (each, a “Series”) is divided into approximately ELEVEN THOUSAND (11,000) membership interests, or Interests, and the Interests are represented by the same number of unique cryptographic digital tokens, or RentalTokens, on the Ethereum blockchain. As digital representations of Interests, the RentalTokens embody the legal characteristics of the Interests and carry all of the rights and obligations associated with the Interests. The RentalTokens, like the Interests, are securities for purposes of U.S. securities laws and they are designed to be compliant with applicable U.S. federal and state securities laws and regulations. See “Securities Being Offered – The RentalTokens” for further details.

Each Series of the LLC will either purchase and own one discrete real property asset or hold a promissory agreement. Ownership of any or all of the 11,000 or so RentalTokens of a particular Series gives an individual ownership and limited governing rights over the Series which has issued the RentalTokens and, therefore, over the discrete property owned by the Series or the promissory agreement held by the Series. Because the sole purpose of a Series is to either own one single property or hold a promissory agreement, ownership of all of the RentalTokens issued by a Series is effectively ownership of the property held by that Series or the rights to the promissory agreement held by the Series with, however, very limited control over the management and disposition of either the property or the promissory agreement. Through the services of a management company, the Series, and the real property asset or promissory agreement that it holds, can be managed and maintained with little-to-no engagement from any RentalToken holding individuals, while the RentalToken holding individuals themselves retain full economic ownership rights in either the property or promissory agreement. Through the use of Ethereum’s InterPlanetary File System (“IPFS”), a peer-to-peer distributed file system hosted on the Ethereum Network which Rental America expects to implement in the future, all necessary documents that prove ownership of either the real estate or promissory agreement held by the Series and ownership of the Series by the RentalToken holders will be accessible on the Ethereum blockchain via the internet at any time, by anyone, from anywhere.

Reental America itself will be taxed as a partnership, with pass-through to its members of profits and losses. We intend, however, to elect that each Series will be treated as an association taxable as a corporation. Holders of the Interests in a Series, therefore, will receive a 1099 information return each year reciting the dividends, if any, paid to the holder and certain other tax information appropriate for an interest in a corporation.

We plan to target for purchase by a Series:

1. The acquisition of one or more income producing properties in and around mid-sized cities offering higher yielding returns. These properties will be renovated by the Borrowers (as defined below) prior to their purchase by a Series in order to increase resale value and income. Prior to a Series acquiring any particular real property asset, we plan to engage a third-party real estate valuation advisory firm to appraise the value of the property being acquired. We did not, however, obtain an appraisal of the property acquired by Series RNT DNB-1, and we valued that property under a generalized method described below; OR
2. Subscription to a series of real estate linked loan notes issued by a legally ring fenced and bankruptcy remote compartment of Estating Property Vault S.A., a Luxembourg incorporated investment vehicle. Such series of real estate linked loan notes is backed by the vehicle’s holding of membership interests in the underlying fund, which in turn gives exposure to the relevant underlying project.

Our RentalToken business approach is discussed in more detail below and in our RentalToken White Paper. Our Rental America White Paper is not incorporated by reference into this Memorandum.

Series RNT DNB-1

The Interests and related ReentalTokens described in this Memorandum are being offered and sold by a Series of Reental America: Series RNT DNB-1.

History and Structure

Series RNT DNB-1 is a series limited liability company formed on 11 July 2025, pursuant to Section 605 of the Florida Revised Limited Liability Company Act (the “LLC Act”).

As a series limited liability company, title to Reental America’s underlying assets will be held by, or for the benefit of, the applicable series of interests. We intend that each series of interests will own its own underlying asset, which will be either a real estate property or promissory agreement. A new series of interests will be issued for future real estate properties or promissory agreements to be acquired or held by Reental America.

Section 605.0111 of the LLC Act provides that, if certain conditions are met (including that certain provisions are in the formation and governing documents of the series limited liability company, and if the records maintained for any such series account for the assets associated with such series separately from the assets of the limited liability company, or any other series), then the debts, liabilities, obligations and expenses incurred, contracted for or otherwise existing with respect to a particular series shall be enforceable only against the assets of such series and not against the assets of the limited liability company generally or any other series. As such, the assets and liabilities of a series include only the real estate property or promissory agreement associated with that series and other related assets (e.g., cash reserves) and liabilities.

On 11 July 2025, we established the Series RNT DNB-1 membership interests of Reental America in connection with the Underlying Asset.

The Underlying Asset

The Series has contracted to hold the Underlying Asset from Estating Property Vault, S.A., acting in respect of a specific compartment (the “Borrower”) for $1,100,000 (the “Loan Note Amount”) and has entered into a loan note subscription agreement (the “Loan Note Subscription Agreement”) with the Borrower in the full amount of the Note Amount.

The Series RNT DNB-1 will hold membership interests in a holding company, taking the form of a limited liability company, which in turn will hold directly or indirectly one hundred percent of a limited liability company owning the real estate property (the “Underlying Asset”). For market-standard structuring purposes, a series of investment vehicles (either associated with the asset or with the investment vehicle) is involved to ensure efficiency of cash-flows.

Payments under the Loan Notes by the Borrower to Series RNT DNB-1 are subject to and directly dependent on any payments received by the Borrower from the sale or monetization of the underlying property. The value of the Loan Note interest payments and redemptions depends directly on the performance of the Underlying Asset.

It is not anticipated that the Series would own any assets other than the Underlying Asset, plus cash reserves for maintenance, insurance and other expenses pertaining to the Underlying Asset, and amounts earned by the Series from the monetization of the Underlying Asset, if any. See “Description of Business—The Underlying Asset” for further details.

All investments into real estate projects are evaluated with market-standard financial models at inception, and periodic updates are delivered by Estating Property Vault S.A.’s service provider to Reental America.

For market-standard structuring purposes, a series of investment vehicles (either associated with the asset or with the investment vehicle) is involved to ensure efficiency of cash-flows.

Managing Member

Reental America, LLC, a Floridare LLC organized on 5th August 2022, is the Managing Member (the “Managing Member”) of Rental America and the manager (the “Manager”) of the Series. The Managing Member also operates a web-based investment platform called www.reental.co (the RentalToken website and any successor platform used by Rental America for the offer and sale of RentalToken interests, the “RentalToken Website”) through which the Interests and other Series interests will be sold, in the form of RentalTokens. The address of the RentalToken Website is www.reental.co.

The Managing Member will not be entitled to receive or purchase any Series RNT DNB-1 RentalTokens in connection with its role as Managing Member; however, the Managing Member will receive a tokenization fee between five percent (5%) and ten percent (10%) of the Note Amount. The Managing Member’s offices are located at 2828 SW 22 ST, Suite 106, Miami, FL 33145, and the telephone number is +34 644 679 474.

Operating Expenses

After the initial Closing, the Series will be responsible for the following costs and expenses attributable to the activities of Rental America related to the Series (together, the “Operating Expenses”):

- any and all ongoing fees, costs and expenses incurred in connection with the management of the Underlying Asset, including the Management Fees and real estate taxes, security, valuation, marketing and utilization of the Underlying Asset;
- fees, costs and expenses incurred in connection with preparing any reports and accounts of the Series, including any blue-sky filings required in certain states, bookkeeping and any annual audit of the accounts of the Series (if applicable);
- fees, costs and expenses of a third-party registrar and transfer agent appointed in connection with the Series;
- fees, costs and expenses incurred in connection with making any tax filings on behalf of the Series;
- any indemnification payments;
- any and all insurance premiums or expenses incurred in connection with the Underlying Asset; and
- any similar expenses that may be determined to be Operating Expenses, as determined by the Manager in its reasonable discretion.

The Managing Member, also acting in its capacity as Manager of the Series, will bear its own expenses of an ordinary nature, including all costs and expenses on account of rent, supplies, secretarial expenses, stationery, charges for furniture, fixtures and equipment, payroll taxes, remuneration and expenses paid to employees, and utilities expenditures (excluding utilities expenditures in connection with the operation of the Underlying Asset if applicable).

If the Operating Expenses exceed the amount of revenues generated from the Underlying Asset and cannot be covered by any Operating Expense reserves on the balance sheet of the Underlying Asset, the Managing Member will loan the amount of the Operating Expenses to the Series, on which the Managing Member may impose a reasonable rate of interest, and be entitled to reimbursement of such amount from future revenues generated by the Underlying Asset (an “Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation(s)").

We anticipate that the Series will generate revenues in Q3 2025, but we expect the Series to incur Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligations.

Distribution Rights

“Free Cash Flow” consists of the net income (as determined under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”)) generated by the Series plus any change in net working capital and depreciation and amortization (and any other non-cash Operating Expenses) and less any capital expenditures related to the Underlying Asset. The Manager may maintain Free Cash Flow funds in a deposit account or an investment account for the benefit of the Series.

The Managing Member has sole discretion in determining what distributions of Free Cash Flow, if any, are made to holders of the Interests (the “Interest Holders”). Any Free Cash Flow generated by the Series from the ownership and leasing of the Underlying Asset shall be applied within the Series in the following order of priority:

1. repay any amounts outstanding under Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligations plus accrued interest;
2. thereafter, to create such reserves as the Managing Member deems necessary, in its sole discretion, to meet future Operating Expenses; and
3. thereafter, 100% (net of corporate income taxes applicable to the Series) by way of distribution to the Interest Holders.

Additionally, with respect to income to the Series generated through the Underlying Asset (“Income”), net of the applicable Operating Expenses, the Manager expects to distribute such net Income to the Interest Holders as a dividend. The Manager plans to declare this dividend on the day the promissory agreement is paid in full by the Borrower and pay it to persons in whose names Interests are registered on the books of the Company (the “Record Holders”) as of the opening of business on the day of declaration (the “Record Date”).

See “Securities Being Offered—Distribution Rights.”

Timing and Form of Distributions

The Manager may make semi-annual distributions of Free Cash Flow, and more frequently, periodic distributions of Income, to Interest Holders subject to it having the right, in its sole discretion, to withhold distributions including the Management Fees in order to meet anticipated costs and liabilities of the Series.

The Manager may change the timing of potential distributions in its sole discretion.

Distributions upon Liquidation and sale of the Underlying Asset

Upon the occurrence of a liquidation event relating to Reental America as a whole or any series, the Manager (or a liquidator selected by the Manager) is charged with winding up the affairs of the series of interests or Reental America as a whole, as applicable, and liquidating its assets. Upon the liquidation of a series of interests or Reental America as a whole, as applicable, the Underlying Asset of a series will be liquidated. Any after-tax proceeds will then be distributed: (i) first, to any third party creditors, (ii) second, to any creditors that are the Managing Member or its affiliates (e.g., payment of any outstanding Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation), and thereafter, 100% to the interest holders of the relevant series of interests, allocated pro rata based on the number of interests held by each interest holder (which may include the Borrower and which distribution within a series will be made consistent with any preferences which exist within such series). See “Securities Being Offered—Liquidation Rights.”

Transfer Restrictions

The Manager may refuse a transfer by an Interest Holder of its Interest(s) for any reason in its sole discretion, including if such transfer would result in (a) there being more than 2,000 beneficial owners in the Series or more than 500 beneficial owners that are not “accredited investors,” (b) the assets of the Series being deemed “plan assets” for purposes of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 and regulations thereunder, as amended (“ERISA”), (c) a change of U.S. federal income tax treatment of Reental America and/or the Series, or (d) Reental America, the Series or the Manager being subject to additional regulatory requirements. Furthermore, as the Interests are not registered under the Securities Act, transfers of Interests into or within the United States may only be effected pursuant to exemptions under the Securities Act and if permitted by applicable state securities laws. See “Securities Being Offered—Transfer Restrictions” for more information.

THE OFFERING

The Series:

Series RNT DNB-1 (“Series RNT DNB-1”) is a newly formed series of Reental America Series LLC, a Florida series limited liability company (the “Company”).

Securities being offered:

We are offering a maximum of 11,000 Interests in the Series for a maximum aggregate amount of 1,100,000$.

Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens:

The Interests are intended to be of a separate series of Reental America for purposes of assets and liabilities accounting. See “Securities Being Offered” for further details. The purchase of the Interests is an investment only in the Series and not an investment in Reental America as a whole.

The Interests will be issued in the form of cryptographic digital tokens referred to herein as “Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.” The Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are a new series of Ethereum blockchain-based smart contract digital tokens consisting of software code meeting the ERC-20 protocol standard as modified to meet transfer restriction requirements under applicable U.S. securities law.

Token Identifier

The software code of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken Smart Contract will be based on open source code but will be proprietary and will not be published at this time. The Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken will be coded with a “restricted security” legend as a token attribute. The Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken will generally have a one (1) year holding period before U.S. holders may freely trade such digital Tokens on a Designated Token Exchange (as defined below).

Offering Price per Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken:

Investment Minimum:

No Minimum Offering Amount; No Escrow Agent:

REENTALTOKEN-DNB-1

The Offering Price per Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken is 100$.

Form of Payment for Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens:

The minimum investment amount by an Investor who is a U.S. Person is ten (10) Interests in the form of ten (10) Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, although Reental America, in its sole discretion, may determine to accept a lesser amount. Investors who are excluded from the Regulation S definition of “U.S. persons” investing under the Regulation S exemption may purchase a minimum of one (1) Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken.

Exchange Rates for Purchases:

The Series has not engaged a third-party bank or financial institution to act as escrow agent. Cash or cryptocurrency payments will be held by Reental America or one of its Affiliates in a segregated business account until the earlier of a Closing (or the rejection of the Investor’s subscription), and will thereafter be immediately available for Series use in accordance with the use of proceeds set forth in this Memorandum

The Offering Price of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be designated in U.S. Dollars. Purchases of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be paid for in U.S. dollars, although the Series, in its sole discretion, may determine to accept Euros as payment for Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Investors in this Offering will receive a number of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens equal in number to the amount or value in U.S. dollars or Euros they have tendered, divided by the price per Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken.

In the event we terminate this Offering, or we do not accept a particular purchase, any U.S. dollars or Euros tendered by potential Investors will be promptly returned to such investors without interest and net of any outgoing wire or other fees applied to such transmission.

Digital Wallets:

In order to receive Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens purchased from the Series, Investors in this Offering will be required to obtain a ERC-20 compatible crypto-wallet or other storage mechanism (“Digital Wallet”), including an accurate digital address associated with such Digital Wallet or other storage mechanism (the “Digital Asset Receipt Address”), that supports the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. The Series is not responsible for any delays, losses, costs, non-delivery or refunds of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens or other issues arising from a holder of any Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens failing to provide a Digital Asset Receipt Address or providing an inaccurate or incomplete Digital Asset Receipt Address. Failure to follow the above procedures will result in failure to receive Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. The Series reserves the right to impose additional requirements with respect to a storage mechanism for the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. See “Subscription Procedures.”

Divisibility: Best Efforts:

Following issuance of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, the Series may determine to allow the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens to be divisible (or fractionalized) up to ten (10) decimal places.

This Offering is being made on a “best-efforts” basis. The Series does not warrant that all 11,000 Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be sold and reserves the right to terminate the Offering prior to the sale of all of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Purchasers; Eligibility:

Each Investor: (a) if in the United States, or a U.S. Person (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act), must be a verified “accredited investor” (as defined in Regulation D under the Securities Act) or (b) if outside of the United States, must be an investor excluded from the Regulation S definition of a “U.S. Person” who is not purchasing for the account or benefit of a U.S. Person (as defined under Regulation S) and who is eligible to purchase and hold Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens under the applicable laws of the Investor’s jurisdiction. In the United States, the Offering is being conducted pursuant to Rule 506(c) of Regulation D under the Securities Act.

Closings; Offering Termination:

Reental America may hold a series of Closings on a rolling basis as funds and investment documents are received. This Offering will terminate on the earlier of (i) the 17 July 2025 at which the maximum offering dollar amount in this Offering has been sold, (2) 17 July 2025, or (3) the 17 July 2025 at which the offering is earlier terminated by Rental America in our sole discretion.

Use of proceeds:

The proceeds received in the Offering will be applied in the following order of priority of payment:

- Cost of the Underlying Asset: The actual Note Amount of the Underlying Asset to be paid to the Borrower shall be paid out of the net proceeds of the Offering as Closings occur.
- Working Capital: The balance of proceeds remaining after the payment of the Promissory Agreement shall be reserved for ongoing Operating Expenses.

The Managing Member will bear all Offering Expenses on behalf of the Series and will be reimbursed by the Series through the proceeds of the Offering. The Acquisition Expenses for a particular Series will be built into the Note Amount of the Underlying Asset for that Series. The Series may, however, incur certain post-Closing acquisition related expenses such as property appraisal costs. See “Use of Proceeds to Borrower” and “Plan of Distribution— Fees and Expenses” sections for further details.

Rights of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens:

The Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will carry such rights as described in the operating agreement of Rental America (the “Operating Agreement”), a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit A, and the Series RNT DNB-1 of Series RNT DNB-1 of Rental America (the “Series RNT DNB-1 DNB-1”), a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit B, and summarized below:

Voting: Each Record Holder of a Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken will be entitled to those certain, limited voting rights allocated to the Interests as set forth in the Operating Agreement and Series RNT DNB-1. See the “Securities Being Offered – Limited Voting Rights” section for further details. These voting rights include one vote for each Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken on all matters submitted to a vote of Reental America’s Members. All Record Holders of Series RNT DNB-1 Interests shall be entitled to one vote per Interest for all matters submitted for the consent or approval of the Members of Series RNT DNB-1.

Dividends: Holders of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be entitled to receive dividends as may be declared from time to time by the Manager.

Liquidation: In the event of our liquidation, dissolution, or winding up, after the payment of all of our debts and other liabilities, the holders of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be entitled to share ratably in the net assets legally available for distribution to the Interest Holders.

To purchase Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, each Investor will be required to complete such documentation as may be requested by or on behalf of the Series, which may include, without limitation: (1) the execution and delivery of a Subscription Agreement, (2) completion of Purchaser qualification requirements and (3) completion of any anti-money laundering (AML) and know-your-customer (KYC) forms or documents.

Governing Law:

The Subscription Agreement will be governed by the laws of Floridare.

Risk factors:

Investing in the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens involves risks. See the section entitled “Risk Factors” in this Memorandum and other information included in this Memorandum for a discussion of factors you should carefully consider before deciding to invest in the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

RISK FACTORS

The Interests, in the form of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, offered hereby are highly speculative in nature, involve a high degree of risk and should be purchased only by persons who can afford to lose their entire investment. There can be no assurance that the Company's investment objectives will be achieved or that a secondary market would ever develop for the Interests, whether via the ReentalToken Website, via third party registered broker-dealers or otherwise. The risks described in this section should not be considered an exhaustive list of the risks that prospective Investors should consider before investing in the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. Prospective Investors should obtain their own legal and tax advice prior to making an investment in the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens and should be aware that an investment in the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may be exposed to other risks of an exceptional nature from time to time. The following considerations are among those that should be carefully evaluated before making an investment in the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Risks Related to the Structure, Operation and Performance of Reental America

An investment in the Offering constitutes only an investment in the Series and not in Reental America or the Underlying Asset.

A purchase of the Interests does not constitute an investment in either Reental America or the Underlying Asset directly. This results in limited voting rights of the Investor, which are solely related to the Series. Investors will have voting rights only with respect to certain matters, primarily relating to amendments to the Operating Agreement that would adversely change the rights of the Interests. The Managing Member thus retains significant control over the management of Reental America and the Underlying Asset. Furthermore, because the Interests do not constitute an investment in Reental America as a whole, holders of the Interests will not receive any economic benefit from, or be subject to the liabilities of, the assets of any other series of interest. In addition, the economic interest of a holder in the Series will not be identical to owning a direct undivided interest in the Underlying Asset because, among other things, the Series will be required to pay corporate taxes before distributions are made to the holders, and the Managing Member will receive a fee in respect of its management of the Underlying Asset.

Reental America and the Series were recently formed, have no track record and no operating history from which you can evaluate Reental America or this investment.

Reental America and the Series were recently formed and have not generated any revenues and have no operating history upon which prospective Investors may evaluate their performance. No guarantee can be given that Reental America and the Series will achieve their investment objectives, the value of the Underlying Asset will increase or the Underlying Asset will be successfully monetized or tokenized.

Given our start-up nature, investors may not be interested in making an investment and we may not be able to raise all of the capital we seek for the initial Series or any future series and this could have a material adverse effect upon our Company and the value of your Interests.

Due to the start-up nature of Reental America, there can be no guarantee that we will reach our funding target from potential Investors with respect to the Series or future proposed series of interests. In the event we do not reach a funding target, we may not be able to achieve our investment objectives by acquiring additional underlying assets through the issuance of further series of interests and monetizing them together with the Underlying Asset to generate distributions for Investors. If we are unable to raise funding for additional series of interests, this may impact any investors already holding interests as they will not see the benefits which arise from economies of scale following the acquisition by other series of interests of additional underlying assets and other monetization opportunities. Additionally, our failure to fund this or additional Series could cause us to terminate the business without having achieved our business objectives, and you may experience difficulties in realizing a return on, or of, your investment.

There are few, if any, businesses that have pursued a strategy or investment objective similar to Reental America's which may make it difficult for Reental America and the Interests to gain market acceptance.

We do not believe that any other company crowd funds tokenized real property assets, promissory agreements, or proposes to run a platform for crowd funding of tokenized interests in real property. Reental America and the Interests may not gain market acceptance from potential Investors, potential Borrowers or service providers within the real estate industry, including insurance companies, appraisers, and strategic partners. This could result in an inability of the Manager to operate the Underlying Asset profitably. This could impact the issuance of further series of interests and additional underlying assets being acquired by us. This would further inhibit market acceptance of Reental America and if we do not acquire any additional underlying assets, Investors would not receive any benefits which arise from economies of scale such as more efficient administration, service provider expenses, and access to sufficient deal-flow. Additionally, the failure of our business model being accepted by investors could lead us to terminate the business which may make it difficult for you to receive any distributions on, or return of, your investment in the Series.

Operating Expenses that are incurred after the initial Closing will reduce potential distributions, if any, and the potential return on investment resulting from the appreciation of the Underlying Asset, if any.

Operating Expenses incurred post-initial Closing shall be the responsibility of the Series. However, if the Operating Expenses exceed the amount of revenues generated from the Underlying Asset, the Managing Member will loan the amount of the Operating Expenses to the Series, on which the Managing Member may impose a reasonable rate of interest, and be entitled to Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligations.

If there is an Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation, this reimbursable amount between related parties would be taken out of the Free Cash Flow generated by the Series and could reduce the amount of any future distributions payable to Investors. If additional Interests are issued, this would dilute the current value of the Interests held by existing Investors and the amount of any future distributions payable to such existing Investors.

Our success depends in large part upon our Managing Member and its ability to execute our business plan.

The successful operation of Reental America (and therefore, the success of the Interests) is in part dependent on the ability of the Managing Member to source, acquire and manage the underlying assets. As the Managing Member has only been in existence since 17 July 2025 and is an early-stage startup company, it has no significant operating history within the real estate sector, which evidences its ability to source, acquire, manage and utilize the underlying assets. Failure of the Managing Member to successfully operate and build our business could result in your losing your investment in the Series.

The success of Reental America (and therefore, the Interests) will be highly dependent on the expertise and performance of the Managing Member and its team, its expert network and other investment professionals (which include third party experts) to source, acquire and manage the underlying assets. There can be no assurance that these individuals will continue to be associated with the Managing Member. The loss of the services of one or more of these individuals could have a material adverse effect on the underlying assets, in particular, their ongoing management and use to support the investment of the Interest Holders.

Furthermore, the success of Reental America and the value of the Interests is dependent on there being critical mass from the market for the Interests and also Reental America being able to acquire a number of underlying assets. In the event that we are unable to source additional underlying assets due to, for example, competition for such underlying assets or lack of underlying assets available in the marketplace, this could materially impact the success of Reental America and its objectives of acquiring additional underlying assets through the issuance of further series of interests and monetizing them together with the Underlying Asset. ReentalToken intends to monetize the underlying distressed assets through revitalization with the intention of introducing improvements that increase rentability while maximizing resale value and Income. Reental America expects to make commitments to capital improvements during the next five to 10 years within in the neighborhoods housing the underlying asset properties to be owned by the multiple Series in order to drive community improvements and asset appreciation. There can be no assurances at this time, however, that such planned commitments will be made or that if they are made, they will have a positive impact on the values of the underlying assets.

The power of attorney provisions of the Operating Agreement could act to negatively impact an Investor's investment in the Interests.

Investors who purchase Interests will be bound by the provisions of the Operating Agreement including those provisions pursuant to which the Investor grants to the Managing Member of a power of attorney to, among other things, execute and file documents required for Reental America's qualification, continuance or dissolution. This power of attorney also includes a provision pursuant to which the Investor waives any and all defenses that may be available to contest, negate or disaffirm the action of the Managing Member taken in good faith under the power of attorney. This power of attorney and waiver may limit the ability of an Investor to take certain actions the Investor deems prudent and could result in outcomes unfavorable to the Investor.

If Reental America's series limited liability structure is not respected, then Investors may have to share in any liabilities of Reental America with all investors and not just those who hold the same series of interests as them.

Reental America is structured as a Floridare series limited liability company that issues different series of interests for each underlying asset. Each series of interest will merely be a separate series and not a separate legal entity. Under the LLC Act, if certain conditions (as set forth in Section 18-215(b) of the LLC Act) are met, the liability of investors holding one series of interests is segregated from the liability of investors holding another series of interests and the assets of one series of interests are not available to satisfy the liabilities of other series of interests. Although this limitation of liability is recognized by the courts of Floridare, there is no guarantee that if challenged in the courts of another U.S. State or a foreign jurisdiction, such courts will uphold a similar interpretation of Floridare corporation law, and in the past certain jurisdictions have not honored such interpretation. If our series limited liability company structure is not respected, then Investors may have to share any liabilities of Rental America with all investors and not just those who hold the same series of interests as them. Furthermore, while we intend to maintain separate and distinct records for each series of interests and account for them separately and otherwise meet the requirements of the LLC Act, it is possible a court could conclude that the methods used did not satisfy Section 18-215(b) of the LLC Act and thus potentially expose the assets of the Series to the liabilities of another series of interests. The consequence of this is that Investors may have to bear higher than anticipated expenses which would adversely affect the value of their Interests or the likelihood of any distributions being made by the Series to the Investors. In addition, we are not aware of any court case that has tested the limitations on inter-series liability provided by Section 18-215(b) in federal bankruptcy courts and it is possible that a bankruptcy court could determine that the assets of one series of interests should be applied to meet the liabilities of the other series of interests or the liabilities of Rental America generally where the assets of such other series of interests or of Rental America generally are insufficient to meet our liabilities.

If any fees, costs and expenses of Rental America are not allocable to a specific series of interests, they will be borne proportionately across all of the series of interests. Although the Managing Member will allocate fees, costs and expenses acting reasonably and in accordance with its allocation policy (see “Description of Business—Allocations of Expenses”), there may be situations where it is difficult to allocate fees, costs and expenses to a specific series of interests and therefore, there is a risk that a series of interests may bear a proportion of the fees, costs and expenses for a service or product for which another series of interests received a disproportionately high benefit.

If a Series cannot be treated as a corporation for tax purposes, Investors may be taxed as partners in a tax partnership.

The rule that a separate series of a Series LLC is an eligible entity that may elect to be treated as a corporation for federal tax purposes is contained in proposed Treasury regulations not yet technically in force (Prop. Treas. Reg. section 301.7701-1(a)(5)) and could be subject to change if and when those regulations are issued in final form. If such a change were to occur, Investors in the Series would likely be treated as partners in a tax partnership and would be subject to current federal income tax on their proportional share of the income of the Series or of the Company.

Potential breach of the security measures of the RentalToken Website could have a material adverse effect on Rental America, each series and the value of your investment.

The highly automated nature of the RentalToken Website through which potential investors acquire or transfer interests may make it an attractive target and potentially vulnerable to cyber-attacks, computer viruses, physical or electronic break-ins or similar disruptions. The RentalToken Website processes certain confidential information about investors, the Borrowers and the underlying assets. While we intend to take commercially reasonable measures to protect our confidential information and maintain appropriate cybersecurity, the security measures of the RentalToken Website, Rental America, the Managing Member or our service providers (including the Investment Banking Advisor) could be breached. Any accidental or willful security breaches or other unauthorized access to the RentalToken Website could cause confidential information to be stolen and used for criminal purposes or have other harmful effects. Security breaches or unauthorized access to confidential information could also expose us to liability related to the loss of the information, time-consuming and expensive litigation and negative publicity, or loss of the proprietary nature of the Managing Member’s and Rental America’s trade secrets. If security measures are breached because of third-party action, employee error, malfeasance or otherwise, or if design flaws in the RentalToken Website software are exposed and exploited, the relationships between Rental America, investors, users and the Borrowers could be severely damaged, and Rental America or the Managing Member could incur significant liability or have their attention significantly diverted from utilization of the underlying assets, which could have a material negative impact on the value of interests or the potential for distributions to be made on the interests.

Because techniques used to sabotage or obtain unauthorized access to systems change frequently and generally are not recognized until they are launched against a target, Rental America, the third-party hosting used by the RentalToken Website and other third-party service providers may be unable to anticipate these techniques or to implement adequate preventative measures. In addition, federal regulators and many federal and state laws and regulations require companies to notify individuals of data security breaches involving their personal data. These mandatory disclosures regarding a security breach are costly to implement and often lead to widespread negative publicity, which may cause investors, the Borrowers or service providers within the industry, including insurance companies, to lose confidence in the effectiveness of the secure nature of the ReentalToken Website. Any security breach, whether actual or perceived, would harm our reputation and the ReentalToken Website and we could lose investors and the Borrowers. This would impair our ability to achieve our objectives of acquiring additional underlying assets through the issuance of further series of interests and monetizing them together with the Underlying Asset.

Non-compliance with regulations may result in the abrupt cessation of business operations, rescission of any contracts entered into, an early termination of any series of interests sold or, if Reental America were deemed to be subject to the Investment Advisers Act, the liquidation and winding up of any series of interests sold.

The Interests are being sold by the Managing Member, which is not a registered broker-dealer under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), and which will not be registered in each state where the Offering and sale of the Interests will occur. If a regulatory authority determines that the Managing Member, who is not a registered broker-dealer under the Exchange Act or any state securities laws, has itself engaged in brokerage activities, the Managing Member may need to stop operating and, therefore, Reental America may not have an entity managing the Underlying Asset. In addition, if the Managing Member is required to register as a “broker-dealer,” there is a risk that any series of interests offered and sold while the Managing Member was not registered may be subject to a right of rescission, which may result in the early termination of the Series.

Furthermore, Reental America is not registered and will not be registered as an investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the “Investment Company Act”), and neither is the Managing Member registered nor will it be registered as an investment adviser under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended (the “Investment Advisers Act”), and thus the Interests do not have the benefit of the protections of the Investment Company Act or the Investment Advisers Act. Reental America and the Managing Member have taken the position that the underlying assets are not “securities” within the meaning of the of the Investment Company Act or the Investment Advisers Act, and thus Reental America’s assets will comprise of less than 40% investment securities under the Investment Company Act and the Managing Member will not be advising with respect to securities under the Investment Advisers Act. This position, however, is based upon applicable case law that is inherently subject to judgments and interpretation. If Reental America were to be required to register under the Investment Company Act or the Managing Member were to be required to register under the Investment Advisers Act, it could have a material and adverse impact on the results of operations and expenses of the Series or any other series of interests and the Managing Member may be forced to liquidate the Series and wind up the Series or rescind the Offering of the Interests or the offering for any other series of interests.

Risks Related to the Real Estate Industry

The Series is expected to invest only in the Underlying Asset; therefore, your investment will not be diversified and will appreciate or depreciate, if applicable, based on the value of the Underlying Asset regardless of market conditions.

It is not anticipated that the Series would own any assets other than the Underlying Asset, plus potential cash reserves for maintenance, insurance and other expenses pertaining to the Underlying Asset and amounts earned by the Series from the monetization of the Underlying Asset, if any. Investors looking for diversification will have to create their own diversified portfolio by investing in other opportunities in addition to the Series.

Each series of Reental America is expected to invest in either a real estate property or promissory agreement. If there is a downturn in this industry or the economy in general, then the value of the underlying assets is likely to decrease.

Given the concentrated nature of the underlying assets (i.e., only real estate properties or promissory agreements) any downturn in the real estate industry is likely to impact the value of the underlying assets, and consequently the value of the Interests. Furthermore, the value of such investment property or promissory agreement may be impacted if an economic downturn occurs and there is less disposable income for individuals to invest in products such as real estate related securities. In the event of a downturn in the industry, the value of the underlying assets is likely to decrease.

The geographic concentration of ReentalToken's investment properties and fluctuations in local markets may adversely impact ReentalToken's financial condition and results of operations.

Reental America will own a relatively small number of properties and promissory agreements, linked to a few geographic areas. As a result of this geographic concentration, if a local investment property market performs poorly, the income from the investment property in that market could decrease. The performance of the economy in each of these areas affects occupancy, market rental rates and expenses, and consequently impacts the ability of ReentalToken to resell its projects to third parties on a timely basis and at a profit. Accordingly, economic downturns in the local markets in which ReentalToken owns investment properties could have a negative impact on ReentalToken's cash flow and its ability to satisfy its financial obligations to Investors.

Reental America may be adversely affected by increases in real estate operating costs.

Residential investment properties are subject to increases in operating expenses such as maintenance, insurance and administrative costs, and other general costs associated with security, landscaping, repairs and maintenance. If operating expenses increase, competition in the local rental markets may limit the extent to which rents may be increased to meet increased expenses without decreasing occupancy rates, consequently impacting the ability of ReentalToken to resell its properties to third parties on a timely basis and at a profit.

Discovery of previously undetected environmentally hazardous conditions may adversely affect ReentalToken's operating results.

Under various federal, state and local environmental laws, ordinances and regulations, a current or previous owner or operator of real property may be liable for the cost of removal or remediation of hazardous or regulated substances on, under, in or about such property. The costs of investigation, removal or remediation of such substances could be substantial. Those laws may impose liability whether or not the owner or operator knew of, or was responsible for, the presence of the substances.

Environmental laws also may impose restrictions on the manner in which property may be used or businesses may be operated, and compliance with those restrictions may require substantial expenditures. Environmental laws provide for sanctions in the event of noncompliance and may be enforced by governmental agencies or, in certain circumstances, by private parties. Certain environmental laws and common law principles govern the presence, maintenance, removal and disposal of certain building materials, including mold, asbestos and lead-based paint.

The cost of defending against such claims of liability, of compliance with environmental requirements, of remediating any contaminated property, or of paying personal injury claims could materially adversely affect ReentalToken's business, assets or results of operations and, consequently, its ability to satisfy its financial obligations to ReentalToken.

There are inherent risks with real estate investments

Investments in real estate assets such as the ReentalToken Series RNT DNB-1 are subject to varying degrees of risk, including:

- General economic conditions;
- Rising level of interest rates;
- Local oversupply, increased competition or reduction in demand for student housing;
- Inability to collect rent from tenants;
- Inability to collect Income from the Underlying Asset;
- Default on the promissory agreement by the Borrower;
- Vacancies or our inability to rent beds on favorable terms;
- Changes in senior management or key personnel;
- Costs of complying with changes in governmental regulations;
- Our inability to repay or refinance indebtedness we incur; and
- Natural disasters or similar events.

In addition, periods of economic slowdown or recession, rising interest rates or declining demand for real estate, or the public perception that any of these events may occur, could result in a general decline in rents or an increased incidence of defaults under existing leases, which would adversely affect us.

Condemnation of Land

The Property or a portion thereof could become subject to an eminent domain or inverse condemnation action. Any such action could have a material adverse effect on the value or marketability of the Property as well as the amount received on ultimate sale.

Increases in Property Taxes

Each Series of the LLC may be subject to property taxes that may increase as tax rates change and as the asset is assessed or reassessed by taxing authorities. Failure to pay any taxes may result in a lien being placed on the asset and the asset may be subject to a tax sale.

Costs associated with moisture infiltration and resulting mold remediation may be costly.

As a general matter, concern about indoor exposure to mold has been increasing. As a result, there have been a number of lawsuits against owners and managers of property relating to moisture infiltration and resulting mold. Mold growth may be attributed to the use of exterior insulation finishing systems. The terms of our property and general liability policy generally exclude certain mold-related claims. In this case, we would be required to use our funds to resolve the issue, including litigation costs. Liabilities resulting from moisture infiltration and the presence of or exposure to mold will have an adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition and the value of the Series of the LLC tokens.

The costs of complying with environmental laws and other governmental laws and regulations may adversely affect us.

We must comply with various federal, state and local laws and regulations relating to environmental protection and human health and safety. These laws and regulations generally govern wastewater discharges, air emissions, the operation and removal of underground and above-ground storage tanks, the use, storage, treatment, transportation and disposal of solid and hazardous materials, and the remediation of contamination associated with disposals. We also are required to comply with various local, state and federal fire, health, life-safety and similar regulations. Some of these laws and regulations may impose joint and several liability on owners or operators for the costs of investigating or remediating contaminated properties. These laws and regulations often impose liability whether or not the owner or operator knew of, or was responsible for, the presence of the hazardous or toxic substances. The cost of removing or remediating could be substantial. In addition, the presence of these substances, or the failure to properly remediate these substances, may adversely affect our ability to rent units or sell the Series RentalTokens.

Environmental laws and regulations also may impose restrictions on the manner that we use or operate the asset. These restrictions may require us to make substantial expenditures. Environmental laws and regulations provide for sanctions in the event of noncompliance and may be enforced by governmental agencies or, in certain circumstances, by private parties. Third parties may seek recovery from owners or operators of real properties for personal injury or property damage associated with exposure to released hazardous substances. Compliance with new or more stringent laws or regulations or stricter interpretations of existing laws may require material expenditures by us. For example, various federal, regional and state laws and regulations have been implemented or are under consideration to mitigate the effects of climate change caused by greenhouse gas emissions. Among other things, “green” building codes may seek to reduce emissions through the imposition of standards for design, construction materials, water and energy usage and efficiency, and waste management. These requirements could increase the costs of maintaining or improving the asset.

Risks Related to the Underlying Asset

Investment as a member in a limited liability company

The Series will only hold directly a stake in the form of the membership interest in the associated investment vehicles and the limited liability company owning the real estate property. Therefore, business, and administrative decisions at the level of such associated investment vehicles and the limited liability company owning the real estate property and ultimately the real estate property will be taken at the discretion of the sponsors. As one of the members, the Series may not interfere and have no control over the decision-making process of the associated investment vehicles and the limited liability company owning the real estate property and/or the real estate property, and will generally have no rights with respect to the control of associated investment vehicles and the limited liability company owning the real estate property and/or the real estate property day-to-day operations and business, including investment and disposition decisions. Sponsors therefore could effectively pass resolutions which are not aligned or against the interests of the holder of the Loan Notes (i.e. the Series) and may adversely affect the value of the real estate property and ultimately the Loan Notes.

Construction Risk.

Construction may be necessary at the property. Construction involves numerous risks, including risks of delay and cost overruns. Contractors may fail to complete construction obligations on schedule, which could cause the loss commitments from prospective tenants. Permitting authorities may not approve certain aspects of the development or may delay approvals. This could result in delays and/or require alternative design. Construction may not be completed on schedule or within budget, resulting in increased debt service expense and construction costs and delays in leasing such properties and generating cash flow. Substantial renovation and development activities are also subject to risks relating to the inability to obtain, or delays in obtaining, all necessary zoning, land-use, building, occupancy and other required governmental permits and authorizations. Once completed, such renovated properties may perform below anticipated levels, producing cash flow below budgeted amounts. In addition, substantial renovations, regardless of whether or not they are ultimately successful, typically require a substantial portion of management's time and attention, which could divert management's time from day-to-day operations. This could result in an adverse change to the investment return profile in such an instance.

Mortgage Loans

The acquisition of the real estate property may be financed (in part) by way of a loan or any kind of mortgage financing indebtedness, pursuant to which a mortgage over the relevant real estate property will be created, in order to secure the obligations under the banking loan. The security interest, created over the real estate property by way of the mortgage, is expected to rank structurally senior to the rights and claims of the Lender in respect of the Loan Notes. In the event of an enforcement of the senior ranking mortgages which secure the banking loans granted for the financing of the real estate property, any proceeds from such an enforcement of the senior ranking mortgages will be applied first in satisfying such senior ranking creditors at the level of the limited liability company owning the real estate property, and only thereafter to the repayment of the Loan Notes in accordance with the relevant waterfall provisions included in the corresponding agreements. In addition, should the prices of real estate property and the housing market in the targeted market substantially decline, the value of the real estate property constituting the mortgage might be adversely affected.

Potential damage to the Underlying Asset could adversely impact the value of the Underlying Asset, the Interests related to the Underlying Asset, or the likelihood of any distributions made by us to Investors.

The Underlying Asset may be damaged by causes beyond our reasonable control. Any damage to the Underlying Asset, could adversely impact the value of the Underlying Asset or adversely increase the liabilities or Operating Expenses of its related Series. Although we intend for the Underlying Asset to be insured (subject to policy terms and conditions), in the event of any claims against such insurance policies, there can be no guarantee that any losses or costs will be reimbursed, that the Underlying Asset can be replaced on a like-for-like basis or that any insurance proceeds would be sufficient to pay the full market value (after paying for any outstanding liabilities including, but not limited to any outstanding balances under Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligations), if any, of the Interests. In the event that damage is caused to the Underlying Asset, this will impact the value of the Underlying Asset, and consequently, the Interests related to the Underlying Asset, as well as the likelihood of any distributions being made by us to the Investors.

Potentially high maintenance and insurance costs for the underlying assets may adversely impact the value of the Interests and the amount of distributions made holders of Interests.

In order to protect and care for the underlying assets, the Managing Member must ensure adequate maintenance work and insurance coverage. The cost of care may vary from year to year depending on the amount of maintenance performed on a particular underlying asset and changes in the insurance rates for covering the underlying assets. It is anticipated that as we acquire more underlying assets, the Managing Member may be able to negotiate a discount on the costs of maintenance and insurance due to economies of scale. These reductions are dependent on our acquiring a number of underlying assets and service providers being willing to negotiate volume discounts and, therefore, are not guaranteed.

If costs turn out to be higher than expected, this would impact the value of the Interests, the amount of distributions made to Investors holding the Interests, on potential proceeds from a sale of the Underlying Asset (if ever), and any capital proceeds returned to Investors after paying for any outstanding liabilities, including, but not limited to any outstanding balances under Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation.

Restoration or repair of the Underlying Asset may result in a decrease in the value of the Underlying Asset.

Although we do not intend to undertake restoration or repair of the Underlying Asset, there may be situations in the future that it is required to do so (e.g., due to natural wear and tear and through the use of such Underlying Asset). Where it does so, it will be dependent on the performance of third-party contractors and sub-contractors and may be exposed to the risks that a project will not be completed within budget, within the agreed timeframe or to the agreed specifications. While we will seek to mitigate our exposure by negotiating appropriate contracts, including appropriate warranty protection, any failure on the part of a contractor to perform its obligations could adversely impact the value of the Underlying Asset and therefore, the value of the Interests.

Insurance may not cover all losses which may result in an operating loss and likelihood that distributions will not be made by us.

Insurance of the Underlying Asset may not cover all losses. There are certain types of losses, generally of a catastrophic nature, such as earthquakes, floods, hurricanes, terrorism or acts of war that may be uninsurable or not economically insurable. Inflation, environmental considerations and other factors, including terrorism or acts of war, also might make insurance proceeds insufficient to repair or replace an asset if it is damaged or destroyed. Under such circumstances, the insurance proceeds received might not be adequate to restore our economic position with respect to any affected underlying assets. Furthermore, the series of interests related to such affected underlying assets would bear the expense of the payment of any deductible. Any uninsured loss could result in both loss of cash flow from and the value of the affected underlying assets and, consequently, the series of interests that relate to such underlying assets.

We may be associated with third party liability and exposed to reputational harm as a result of wrongful actions by certain third parties.

The Series will assume all of the ownership risks attached to its Underlying Asset, including third party liability risks. Therefore, the Series may be liable to a third party for any loss or damages incurred by it in connection with the Underlying Asset. This would be a loss to Reental America and therefore deductible from any income or capital proceeds payable in respect of the Series from the Underlying Asset, in turn adversely affecting the value of the Series to which the Underlying Asset relates and the likelihood of any distributions being made by us.

Title claims on an underlying asset may diminish value in the Underlying Asset as well as the Series that relate to the Underlying Asset.

There is no guarantee that an underlying asset will be free of any claims regarding title, or that such claims may arise after acquisition of an underlying asset by a series of interests. We may not have complete ownership history for an underlying asset or a future underlying asset. In the event of a title claim against us, although we will have title insurance, we may not have recourse against the Borrower and the value of the Underlying Asset and the Series, may be diminished.

Forced sale of the Underlying Asset at a lower value than when the Underlying Asset was first acquired may diminish the value of the Series of Interests that relate to the Underlying Asset.

We may be forced to sell the Underlying Asset (e.g., upon the bankruptcy of the Managing Member) and such a sale may occur at an inopportune time or at a lower value than when the Underlying Asset was first acquired or at a lower price than the aggregate of costs, fees and expenses used to purchase the Underlying Asset. In addition, there may be liabilities related to the Underlying Asset, including, but not limited to Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligations on the balance sheet of the Underlying Asset at the time of a forced sale, which would be paid off prior to Investors receiving any distributions from a sale. In such circumstances, the capital proceeds obtained for the Underlying Asset, and therefore, the return available to Investors, may be lower than could have been obtained if the Underlying Asset continued to be held by us and sold at a later 17 July 2025.

Risks Related to Potential Conflicts of Interest

Our Operating Agreement contains provisions that reduce or eliminate duties (including fiduciary duties) of the Managing Member.

Our Operating Agreement provides that the Managing Member, in exercising its rights in its capacity as the Managing Member, will be entitled to consider only such interests and factors as it desires, including its own interests, and will have no duty or obligation (fiduciary or otherwise) to give any consideration to any interest of or factors affecting us or any of our investors and will not be subject to any different standards imposed by our Operating Agreement, the LLC Act or under any other law, rule or regulation or in equity. These modifications of fiduciary duties are expressly permitted by Floridare law.

We do not have a conflicts of interest policy.

Reental America, the Managing Member, the Borrower and their affiliates will try to balance our interests with their own. However, to the extent that such parties take actions that are more favorable to entities other than Series RNT DNB-1, these actions could have a negative impact on our financial performance and, consequently, on distributions to Investors and the value of the Interests. Rental America has not adopted, and does not intend to adopt in the future, either a conflicts of interest policy or a conflicts resolution policy.

Conflicts may exist among the Managing Member and its respective employees or affiliates.

The Managing Member will engage with, on behalf of Rental America, a number of brokers, dealers, Borrowers, insurance companies, maintenance providers and other service providers and thus may receive in-kind discounts, for example, free shipping or servicing. In such circumstances, it is likely that these in-kind discounts may be retained for the benefit of the Managing Member and not Rental America, or may apply disproportionately to other series of interests. The Managing Member may be incentivized to choose a broker, dealer or Borrower based on the benefits it is to receive or all series of interests collectively are to receive rather than that which is best for the Series.

In the event that the Operating Expenses exceed the revenue from the Underlying Asset, if any, and any cash reserves, the Managing Member has the option to cause the Series to incur an Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation to cover such excess. As interest may be payable on such loan, the Managing Member may be incentivized to cause the Series to incur an Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation to pay Operating Expenses rather than look elsewhere for additional sources of income or to repay any outstanding Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation as soon as possible rather than make distributions to Investors. The Managing Member may also choose to issue additional Interests to pay for Operating Expenses instead of causing Rental America to incur an Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation, even if any interest payable by the Series on any Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation may be economically more beneficial to Interest Holders than the dilution incurred from the issuance of additional Interests.

Conflicts may arise from allocations of income and expenses as between series of interests.

There may be situations when it is challenging or impossible to accurately allocate income, costs and expenses to a specific series of interests and certain series of interests may get a disproportionate percentage of the cost or income, as applicable. In such circumstances, the Managing Member would be conflicted between acting in the best interests of Reental America as a whole or the individual series of interests. While we presently intend to allocate expenses as described in “Description of Business— Allocations of Expenses,” the Managing Member has the right to change this allocation policy at any time without further notice to Investors.

There may be conflicting interests of the Managing Member and the Investors.

The Managing Member will determine whether or not to liquidate the Underlying Asset, should an offer to acquire the whole Underlying Asset be received. As the Managing Member or its affiliates, once registered as a broker-dealer with the SEC, will receive fees on the trading volume in the interests connected with an underlying asset, they may be incentivized not to realize such underlying asset even though investors may prefer to receive the gains from any appreciation in value of such underlying asset. Furthermore, when determining to liquidate an underlying asset, the Managing Member will do so considering all of the circumstances at the time, this may include obtaining a price for an underlying asset that is in the best interests of a substantial majority but not all of the investors.

The Managing Member has the ability to unilaterally amend the Operating Agreement and allocation policy. As the Managing Member is party, or subject, to these documents, it may be incentivized to amend them in a manner that is beneficial to it as Managing Member of Reental America or the Series or may amend it in a way that is not beneficial for all investors. In addition, the Operating Agreement seeks to limit the fiduciary duties that the Managing Member owes to its investors. Therefore, the Managing Member is permitted to act in its own best interests rather than the best interests of the investors. See “Securities Being Offered” for more information.

Conflicts may exist between legal counsel, Reental America and the ReentalToken Parties.

The counsel of Reental America is also counsel to the Managing Member and its affiliates, and may serve as counsel with respect to other series of interests. Because such legal counsel represents both Reental America and such other parties, certain conflicts of interest exist and may arise. To the extent that an irreconcilable conflict develops between Reental America and any of the other parties, legal counsel may represent such other parties and not Reental America or the Series. Legal counsel may, in the future, render services to Reental America or other related parties with respect to activities relating to Reental America as well as other unrelated activities. Legal counsel is not representing any prospective Investors of the Series in connection with this Offering and will not be representing interest holders of Reental America. Prospective Investors are advised to consult their own independent counsel with respect to the other legal and tax implications of an investment in the Interests.

Risks Related to this Offering and Ownership of our Interests

Transfer Restrictions imposed by our Operating Agreement may result in your not being able to sell your ReentalTokens.

The Interests represented by the ReentalTokens are subject to restrictions on transferability. An Interest Holder may not transfer, assign or pledge its Interests without the consent of the Managing Member. The Managing Member may withhold consent in its sole discretion. As a result of these limitations, you may not be able to sell your ReentalTokens when you want to, if at all.

There is currently no public trading market for our securities.

There is currently no public trading market for the Interests, and an active market may not develop or be sustained. If an active public trading market for the Interests does not develop or is not sustained, it may be difficult or impossible for you to resell your Interests at any price. Even if a public market does develop, the market price could decline below the amount you paid for your Interests.

If a market ever develops for the Interests, the market price and trading volume of the Interests may be volatile.

If a market develops for the Interests, the market price of the Interests could fluctuate significantly for many reasons, including reasons unrelated to our performance, the Underlying Asset or the Series, such as reports by industry analysts, investor perceptions, or announcements by our competitors regarding their own performance, as well as general economic and industry conditions. For example, to the extent that other companies, whether large or small, within our industry experience declines in their share price, the value of the Interests may decline as well.

In addition, fluctuations in operating results of a particular series of interest or the failure of operating results to meet the expectations of investors may negatively impact the price of our securities. Operating results may fluctuate in the future due to a variety of factors that could negatively affect revenues or expenses in any particular reporting period, including vulnerability of our business to a general economic downturn; changes in the laws that affect our operations; competition; compensation related expenses; application of accounting standards; seasonality; and our ability to obtain and maintain all necessary government certifications or licenses to conduct our business.

There may be state law restrictions on an Investor's ability to sell the Interests making it difficult to transfer, sell or otherwise dispose of the Interests.

Each state has its own securities laws, often called "blue sky" laws, which (1) limit sales of securities to a state's residents unless the securities are registered in that state or qualify for an exemption from registration and (2) govern the reporting requirements for broker-dealers and stock brokers doing business directly or indirectly in the state. Before a security is sold in a state, there must be a registration in place to cover the transaction, or it must be exempt from registration. Also, the broker must be registered in that state. We do not know whether the Interests will be registered, or exempt, under the laws of any states. A determination regarding registration will be made by the broker-dealers, if any, who agree to serve as the market-makers for the Interests. There may be significant state blue sky law restrictions on the ability of Investors to sell, and on purchasers to buy, the Interests. Investors should consider the resale market for the Interests to be limited. Investors may be unable to resell their Interests, or they may be unable to resell them without the significant expense of state registration or qualification.

Investors lack voting rights and the Managing Member may take actions that are not in the best interests of Investors.

The Managing Member has a unilateral ability to amend the Operating Agreement and the allocation policy in certain circumstances without the consent of the Investors, and the Investors only have limited voting rights in respect of the Series. Investors will therefore be subject to any amendments the Managing Member makes (if any) to the Operating Agreement and allocation policy and also any decision it takes in respect of Reental America and the Series, which the Investors do not get a right to vote upon. Investors may not necessarily agree with such amendments or decisions and such amendments or decisions may not be in the best interests of all of the Investors as a whole but only a limited number.

Furthermore, the Managing Member can only be removed as Managing Member of Reental America and as Manager of each series of interests in a very limited circumstance, following a non-appealable judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction to have committed fraud in connection with Reental America or a series of interests. Investors would therefore not be able to remove the Managing Member merely because they did not agree, for example, with how the Managing Member was operating an underlying asset.

This is a fixed price offering and the fixed Offering Price may not accurately represent the current value of Reental America or our assets at any particular time. Therefore, the price you pay for the Interests may not be supported by the value of our assets at the time of your purchase.

This is a fixed price offering, which means that the Offering Price for the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens is fixed and will not vary based on the underlying value of our assets at any time. The Managing Member has determined the Offering Price in its sole discretion without the input of an investment bank or other third party. The fixed Offering Price for the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be based on our assessment of the value of any assets we own or may own, or on the results of independent third-party appraisals which we may obtain. The fixed Offering Price established for the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, however, may not be supported by the current value of Reental America or our assets at any particular time.

Possible Changes in Federal/Local Tax Laws or the application of existing Federal/Local Tax Laws may result in significant variability in our results of operations and tax liability for the Investor.

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, is subject to change by Congress, and interpretations may be modified or affected by judicial decisions, by the Treasury Department through changes in regulations and by the Internal Revenue Service through its audit policy, announcements, and published and private rulings. Although significant changes to the tax laws historically have been given prospective application, no assurance can be given that any changes made in the tax law affecting an investment in any series of interest of Reental America would be limited to prospective effect. Accordingly, the ultimate effect on an Investor's tax situation may be governed by laws, regulations or interpretations of laws or regulations which have not yet been proposed, passed or made, as the case may be. This analysis would apply as well to local property tax laws which are also subject to change on a periodic basis.

Furthermore, investors may reside in various tax jurisdictions throughout the world. To the extent that there are changes to tax laws or tax reporting obligations in any of these jurisdictions, such changes could adversely impact the ability and/or willingness of our clients to purchase interests in real estate property. Failure to assess or pay the correct amount of tax on a transaction may expose us to claims from tax authorities.

Risks Related to Blockchain Technology, the Ethereum Network, the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, and Cryptocurrencies

The potential application of existing regulatory regimes governing blockchain technologies, cryptocurrencies, tokens, and token offerings such as the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken is not fully developed and so remains substantially uncertain in many respects. New regulations or policies may materially adversely affect the utility of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Regulation of tokens (including Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens) and token offerings such as this Offering, cryptocurrencies (such as BTC or ETH), financial intermediaries such as spot cryptocurrency exchanges, and blockchain networks (such as the Ethereum Network on which the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are intended to be issued), currently is relatively undeveloped and is likely to rapidly evolve. Such regulations may vary and may conflict among international, federal, state and local jurisdictions and the potential applications of existing regulations remain subject to significant uncertainty in many respects. In addition, various legislative and executive bodies in the United States and other countries may in the future adopt new laws, regulations, guidance, or other actions (including applying existing laws and regulations in ways that are adverse), which may severely impact the ability to access marketplaces or exchanges on which to trade Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, and the structure, rights, value and transferability of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. In addition, failure by us to comply with any laws, rules and regulations, some of which may not exist yet or are subject to interpretation and may be subject to change, could result in a variety of adverse consequences, including civil penalties and fines.

This Offering of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens has been designed to comply with securities registration exemptions under U.S. federal law, and securities laws will limit the ability to resell Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

This Offering has been structured in a manner designed to qualify for valid exemptions from registration under U.S. federal and state securities laws. Investors agree only to resell Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens in compliance with applicable securities laws and the restrictions on resale set forth in the subscription agreement and this Memorandum. In addition, no ATS or other exchange is currently committed to list Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, and treatment of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens as a security may limit or prevent their listing on certain exchanges in the future. Although we intend to list Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens on one or more ATSs or other exchanges, no assurance can be made that our attempts to list the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens on any ATS or other exchange will be successful. The Company does not expect to have a cybersecurity audit performed on the ReentalToken smart contract and holders of ReentalTokens could suffer losses if the ReentalToken smart contract or the digital wallets in which the ReentalTokens are held are hacked.

We do not expect to have a cybersecurity audit performed on the ReentalToken smart contract. We believe that because all purchasers of the ReentalTokens will be whitelisted and all transactions in the ReentalTokens recorded, tracked, and reversible, the risk of loss from the possible hacking of a ReentalToken smart contract or a digital wallet holding ReentalTokens will be mitigated.

The further development and acceptance of blockchain networks, which are part of a new and rapidly changing industry, as well as blockchain-based assets such as BTC and ETH, are subject to a variety of factors that are difficult to evaluate. The slowing or stopping of the development or acceptance of blockchain networks and blockchain assets would have an adverse material effect on the successful development and adoption of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

The utilization and growth of the blockchain industry is subject to a high degree of uncertainty. The factors affecting the continuing utilization and further development of the cryptocurrency industry, as well as blockchain networks, include, without limitation:

- Worldwide growth, or a decline, in the adoption and use of BTC or ETH and other blockchain assets as well as the decreasing use of blockchain technology;
- Government and quasi-government regulation of BTC or ETH and other blockchain assets and their use, or restrictions on, or regulation of access to and operation of blockchain networks (such as the Ethereum Network) or similar systems, including in jurisdictions outside the United States;
- The maintenance and development of the open-source software protocol of the Ethereum Network;
- Changes in consumer demographics and public tastes and preferences;
- The availability and popularity of other forms or methods of buying and selling goods and services, or trading assets including new means of using sovereign currencies (such as the U.S. dollar) or existing networks; or
- General economic conditions and the regulatory environment relating to cryptocurrencies.

The slowing or stopping of the development, general acceptance, adoption, and usage of blockchain networks (such as the Ethereum Network) and blockchain assets may deter or delay the acceptance and adoption of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

The prices of blockchain assets are extremely volatile. Fluctuations in the price of digital assets could materially and adversely affect our business, and Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may also be subject to significant price volatility.

The prices of blockchain assets such as BTC and ETH have historically been subject to dramatic fluctuations and are highly volatile, and the market price of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may also be highly volatile. Several factors may influence the market price of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, including, but not limited to:

- Global blockchain asset supply;
- Global blockchain asset demand, which can be influenced by the growth of retail merchants' and commercial businesses' acceptance of blockchain assets like cryptocurrencies as payment for goods and services, the security of online blockchain asset exchanges, and digital wallets that hold blockchain assets, the perception that the use and holding of blockchain assets is safe and secure, and the regulatory restrictions on their use;
- Investors' expectations with respect to the rate of inflation;
- Interest rates;
- Currency exchange rates, including the rates at which digital assets may be exchanged for fiat currencies;
- Fiat currency withdrawal and deposit policies of exchanges, such as an ATS or other exchange, on which Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may be traded and liquidity on such exchanges;
- Interruptions in service from or failures of exchanges on which Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may be traded;
- Investment and trading activities of large investors, including private and registered funds, that may directly or indirectly invest in Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens or other blockchain assets;
- Monetary policies of governments, trade restrictions, currency devaluations and revaluations;
- Regulatory measures, if any, that affect the use of blockchain assets such as Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens;
- The maintenance and development of the open-source software protocol of the Ethereum Network;
- Global or regional political, economic or financial events and situations; or
- Expectations among blockchain assets participants that the value of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens or other blockchain assets will soon change.

A decrease in the price of a single blockchain asset may cause volatility in the entire blockchain asset industry and may affect other blockchain assets including Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Blockchain networks utilize code that is subject to change at any time. These changes may have unintended consequences for Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are intended to be ERC-20 tokens built on the Ethereum blockchain (or similar) protocol as modified to meet transfer restriction requirements under applicable U.S. securities law. Changes, such as upgrades to Ethereum's blockchain, may have unintended, adverse effects on all blockchains utilizing the ERC-20 tokens. Also, the Ethereum Network operates based on an open-source protocol maintained by contributors, and contributors are generally not compensated for maintaining and updating the Ethereum Network protocol. The lack of guaranteed financial incentive for contributors to maintain or develop the Ethereum Network and the lack of guaranteed resources to adequately address emerging issues with the Ethereum Network may reduce incentives to address the issues adequately or in a timely manner. This may adversely affect either the market value or the operational status of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Additionally, Reental America, in its sole discretion may determine to issue the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens on a blockchain other than Ethereum, which may adversely impact an investment in Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Only a few SEC-registered ATSs currently exist to trade blockchain-based security tokens; we may be unsuccessful in listing Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens on any ATS or, once listed, maintaining such listing; trading over a blockchain-capable ATS currently offers the only legal way to trade securities tokens such as Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Currently there are only a small number of SEC-registered ATSs which have the technological capabilities to permit the trading of securities tokens, such as the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. Because the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are intended to be issued as ERC-20 tokens on the Ethereum blockchain, they currently cannot be traded using a conventional securities trading platform such as a national securities exchange (e.g., the New York Stock Exchange). However, because Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are securities, they are not permitted to be traded on most spot cryptocurrency exchanges that are capable of handling blockchain assets (e.g., Coinbase), because most spot cryptocurrency exchanges are not registered with the SEC to offer trading securities. If we are unable to list on an SEC-registered ATS that is capable of handling blockchain tokens, our Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may not legally be permitted to trade in the United States, which could result in a decrease in value of a Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken.

Banks and financial institutions may not provide banking services, or may cut off services, to businesses that provide cryptocurrency-related services or that accept cryptocurrencies as payment.

A number of companies that provide services relating to cryptocurrency or blockchain tokens (like the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens) have been unable to find banks or financial institutions that are willing to provide them with bank accounts and other services. Similarly, a number of companies and individuals or businesses associated with cryptocurrencies and blockchain tokens may have had and may continue to have their existing bank accounts closed or services discontinued with financial institutions. Banks and other established financial institutions may refuse to process funds for cryptocurrency or blockchain token (including the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken) transactions, process wire transfers to or from cryptocurrency exchanges, cryptocurrency-related companies or service providers, or maintain accounts for persons or entities transacting in cryptocurrency.

Cyber security threats could result in misappropriation, hacking, infection by malware, or other damage to Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens or the blockchain network on which it is issued which could adversely affect an investment in Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Security breaches, computer malware and computer hacking attacks have been a prevalent concern since the launch of blockchain networks. Any security breach caused by hacking, which involves efforts to gain unauthorized access to information or systems, or to cause intentional malfunctions or loss or corruption of data, software, hardware or other computer equipment, and inadvertent or intentional infection by computer viruses, could harm or damage the software behind Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, which are intended to use the Ethereum blockchain, resulting in a loss of functionality, value, possession, or other damage to the holders of such Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. Any breach of the software infrastructure supporting Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens could adversely affect an investment therein.

The security system and operational infrastructure supporting the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may be breached due to various causes, including, without limitation, the actions of outside parties, error or malfeasance of an employee or other third party service providers, or other reasons, and, as a result, an unauthorized party may obtain access to private keys, data, or the software infrastructure for the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, or BTC, ETH, or other cryptocurrencies. As the techniques used to obtain unauthorized access, disable or degrade service, or sabotage systems change frequently, or may be designed to remain dormant until a predetermined event and often are not recognized until launched against a target, we may be unable to anticipate these techniques or implement adequate preventative measures. If an actual or perceived breach of the security system or operational infrastructure supporting the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens occurs, part or all of a tokenholder's Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens could be lost, stolen or destroyed, and the value of an investment in Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may be adversely affect.

Loss of private keys may render Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens worthless.

If a private key is lost, destroyed or otherwise compromised and no backup of the private key is accessible, an investor will not be able to access the blockchain asset associated with the corresponding address. Any loss of private keys relating to digital wallets used to store Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens could result in an investor's complete loss of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens it holds.

Smart contracts are subject to limitations.

Smart contract technology is still in its early stages of development, and its application is experimental in nature. This carries significant operational, technological, regulatory, reputational, and financial risks. Smart contracts may not be fit for the purpose intended by the Company and may contain flaws, vulnerabilities, or other issues, which may cause technical problems or the complete loss of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Intellectual property rights claims may adversely affect the operation of blockchain networks.

Third parties may assert intellectual property claims relating to the holding and transfer of blockchain tokens such as Series

RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, or BTC, ETH or other cryptocurrencies, and their source code. Regardless of the merit of any intellectual property or other legal action, any threatened action that reduces confidence in the Ethereum Network's or the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens' long-term viability or the ability of holders to hold and transfer Ether or Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may adversely affect an investment in the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, which are intended to use the Ethereum blockchain. Additionally, a meritorious intellectual property claim could prevent us or our tokenholders from accessing the Ethereum Network or Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens or holding or transferring their Ether or Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. As a result, an intellectual property claim against us or against the Ethereum Network could adversely affect an investment in the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens.

Risks Related to Cryptocurrencies and Crypto-Backed Real Estate Tokenization

In the event the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken's smart contract does not work as anticipated, remedies may be more limited than in the traditional securities market.

The utilization of tokenized smart contracts for the conveyance of securities has only recently developed. The reliability of smart contracts has not been tested over any significant term. The risks that could emerge as the use of securities tokens increases are considerable, including risks of hacking, risks of poor programming, risks of lack of clarity, and others. Any failure of the smart contract to operate as expected may result in unintended transactions that cannot be reversed, and Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken holders may have more limited remedies than are available in the traditional securities market.

Transfers of digital assets are controlled only by those who know the unique private cryptographic key relating to the assets. If your private key is lost, destroyed, or otherwise compromised and no backup of the private key is accessible, ReentalToken or you may not be able to access the digital asset associated with this private key. Further, the private key may not be able to be reissued, restored, or otherwise reset. In addition, to the extent a third party gains access to a private key, that third party may be able to access the digital asset to which the private key relates. Moreover, any breach of data security that exposes or compromises the security of the private keys used to authorize or validate transactions, or that enables any unauthorized person to generate any private keys, could result in unauthorized transfers that may be impossible to reverse or remedy. Any loss of private keys relating to digital wallets used to store the ReentalTokens or the BTC or ETH used to participate in the Offering could have a material adverse effect on your investment.

The Ethereum blockchain, which will be used for ReentalTokens, is susceptible to mining attacks.

The Ethereum blockchain, which will be used for ReentalTokens, is susceptible to mining attacks, including double-spend attacks, majority mining power attacks, "selfish-mining" attacks, and race condition attacks, as well as other new forms of attack that may be created in the future. Any successful attacks present a risk to ReentalTokens and expected proper execution and sequencing of ReentalTokens in general. Mining attacks may also target other blockchain networks with which ReentalTokens interact, which may consequently impact ReentalTokens in a materially and significantly negative way.

Other Requirements

In addition to submitting documentation to confirm their status as non “U.S. Persons,” all potential purchasers of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will need to complete requisite know-your-customer and anti-money laundering procedures to execute a Subscription Agreement.

The USA PATRIOT Act	What is money laundering?	How big is the problem and why is it important?
The USA PATRIOT Act is designed to detect, deter and punish terrorists in the United States and abroad. The Act imposes anti-money laundering requirements on brokerage firms and financial institutions. Since April 24, 2002, all United States brokerage firms have been required to have comprehensive anti-money laundering programs in effect. To help you understand these efforts, the Borrower wants to provide you with some information about money laundering and the Borrower’s efforts to help implement the USA PATRIOT Act.	Money laundering is the process of disguising illegally obtained money so that the funds appear to come from legitimate sources or activities. Money laundering occurs in connection with a wide variety of crimes, including illegal arms sales, drug trafficking, robbery, fraud, racketeering and terrorism.	The use of the United States financial system by criminals to facilitate terrorism or other crimes could taint its financial markets. According to the United States State Department, one recent estimate puts the amount of worldwide money laundering activity at $1 trillion a year.

Reental America, or the Borrower, reserves the right to request such information as is necessary to verify the identity of purchasers of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, and the source of the payment of subscription monies, or as is necessary to comply with any customer identification programs or such information as may be required in order for the Borrower to discharge its obligations under Floridare law (including pursuant to the Proceeds of Crime Law (as revised)).

In the event of delay or failure by the applicant to produce any information required for verification purposes, an application for or transfer of the Tokens and the subscription monies relating thereto may be refused.

The Borrower is entitled to rely upon the accuracy of your representations. The Borrower may, but under no circumstances will it be obligated to, require additional evidence that a prospective purchaser meets the standards set forth above at any time prior to its acceptance of a prospective purchaser’s subscription. You are not obligated to supply any information so requested by the Borrower, but the Borrower, may reject a subscription from you or any person who fails to supply such information.

The amounts and timing of our actual expenditures will depend upon numerous factors, including market conditions, cash generated by our operations, business developments, and related rate of growth. The Managing Member reserves the right to modify the use of proceeds based on the factors set forth above. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

Reental America Series LLC has created a system for tokenizing real property and promissory agreements in the United States and worldwide that allows a token holder to purchase and retain most economic and legal rights and protections that are provided by traditional ownership of either real estate or promissory agreements. This RentalToken system utilizes a series Florida limited liability company, or LLC, as an intermediary entity between a token-owning individual and a piece of real estate property or promissory agreement. Ownership of a series of the LLC, or Series, is divided into ELEVEN THOUSAND (11,000) membership interests, or Interests, and the Interests are represented by the same number of unique cryptographic digital tokens, or RentalTokens, on the Ethereum blockchain. As digital representations of Interests, the RentalTokens embody the legal characteristics of the Interests and carry all of the rights and obligations associated with the Interests. The RentalTokens, like the Interests, are securities for purposes of U.S. securities laws and they are designed to be compliant with U.S. federal and state applicable securities laws and regulations. See “Securities Being Offered – The RentalTokens” for further details.

Each Series of the LLC will purchase and own one discrete real property asset or promissory agreement. Ownership of any or all of the 11,000 RentalTokens of a particular Series gives an individual ownership and governing rights over the Series which has issued the RentalTokens and, therefore, over the discrete property owned by the Series or the economic rights to the promissory agreement held by the Series. Because the sole purpose of a Series is to either own one single property or a promissory note, ownership of all of the RentalTokens issued by a Series is effectively ownership of the property held by that Series or ownership of the economic rights to the promissory agreement held by that Series. Through the services of a management company, the Series, and the real property asset that it holds, if applicable, can be managed and maintained with little-to-no engagement from any RentalToken holding individuals, while the RentalToken holding individuals themselves retain full economic rights in the property or promissory agreement. Through the use of Ethereum’s IPFS, which Rental America expects to implement in the future, all necessary documents that prove ownership of the real estate or promissory agreement by RentalToken holders will be accessible on the Ethereum blockchain via the internet at any time, by anyone, from anywhere.

The Underlying Asset ¹

DANIA BEACH-1 (Series RNT DNB-1) is an income-generating hospitality asset currently operating under the brand Rodeway Inn & Suites, located in Dania Beach, Florida (USA). The hotel is undergoing a rebranding process to Clarion and is expected to transition to Garner by IHG in the near future.

Location and Site

The property is strategically located at 2440 W. State Road 84, offering immediate access to Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport, Port Everglades, I-95, and Florida’s Turnpike. This location is ideal for both business and leisure travelers, contributing to the hotel’s consistent occupancy performance.

The site comprises a 3.7-acre parcel, with 158 rooms, including suites with kitchenettes, and multiple event and conference facilities.

The property benefits from strong visibility along State Road 84 and serves as a key hospitality hub in the Greater Fort Lauderdale area.

Asset Overview

The hotel consists of:

- 158 fully operational rooms, including standard rooms and extended-stay suites

¹ AOS Note: Description to be aligned with the final description of the Underlying included on p. 3 and 4 above.

- Multiple banquet halls and meeting rooms
- Restaurant and bar on-site
- Outdoor pool and lounge areas
- Complimentary airport and cruise port shuttle
- On-site parking and tour bus accommodation

The hotel is positioned as a limited-service asset with strong cash flow, targeting corporate, cruise, and airport-related demand. It is also pet-friendly and family-oriented.

More than $4.1 million in capital improvements have already been made to the property. These include renovations in rooms, common areas, event facilities, mechanical systems, and compliance with brand standards required for the upcoming Clarion/Garner conversion.

Branding and Operator

The asset is currently transitioning from Rodeway Inn & Suites to Clarion (Choice Hotels), and ultimately to Garner by IHG, a midscale brand with premium service standards.

The transition is expected to enhance revenue per available room (RevPAR) by increasing average daily rate (ADR) and attracting a higher-spending segment of travelers.

The asset is operated by Torchwood Hotels, a seasoned hospitality operator with a portfolio of branded hotels in South Florida.

Ownership and Legal Structure

The property is held through a U.S.-based real estate holding structure, with Estating Property Vault S.A. (Luxembourg) acting as the investment vehicle via Compartment 2025-00006.

Investors in this offering do not hold direct ownership of the property. Instead, their investment is structured through the Luxembourg compartment, which holds an equity stake in the U.S.-based holding company owning the asset. This allows for indirect exposure to the economic upside of the investment, such as income distributions and capital appreciation.

Market Context and Value Drivers

Dania Beach is part of the Greater Fort Lauderdale hospitality corridor, one of the most dynamic hotel markets in Florida:

- Proximity to cruise terminals and the airport drives high year-round occupancy
- Growing demand from sports tourism, air travel, and events
- Increasing brand value through rebranding to Clarion and IHG
- Strong long-term fundamentals supported by regional infrastructure investments
- Exit scenarios are strengthened by the low cost basis post-rebranding, increased brand equity, and improving market ADRs

This project offers a rare opportunity to participate in the repositioning of a stabilized, income-generating hotel asset with significant upside potential through branding, operational optimization, and market growth.

Our Managing Member

The Operating Agreement designates the Managing Member as the managing member of Reental America. If the Managing Member decides to submit a matter to vote of the Interest Holders, the Managing Member will generally not be entitled to participate in the votes. The Managing Member will not have any distribution, redemption, conversion or liquidation rights by virtue of its status as the Managing Member.

Operating Expenses

Upon the initial Closing, the Series will be responsible for the following Operating Expenses:

- any and all ongoing fees, costs and expenses incurred in connection with the management of the Underlying Asset, including income taxes, security, valuation, maintenance and repairs, marketing and utilization of the Underlying Asset;
- fees, costs and expenses incurred in connection with preparing any reports and accounts of the Series, including any blue-sky filings required in certain states and any annual audit of the accounts of the Series (if applicable);
- fees, costs and expenses of a third-party registrar and transfer agent appointed in connection with the Series;
- fees, costs and expenses incurred in connection with making any tax filings on behalf of the Series;
- any indemnification payments;
- any and all insurance premiums or expenses incurred in connection with the Underlying Asset; and
- any similar expenses that may be determined to be Operating Expenses, as determined by the Managing Member in its reasonable discretion.

The Managing Member has agreed to pay and to be reimbursed for Operating Expenses incurred prior to the initial Closing. The Managing Member will bear its own expenses of an ordinary nature, including, all costs and expenses on account of rent, supplies, secretarial expenses, stationery, charges for furniture, fixtures and equipment, payroll taxes, remuneration and expenses paid to employees and utilities expenditures.

If the Operating Expenses exceed the amount of revenues generated from the Underlying Asset and cannot be covered by any Operating Expense reserves on the balance sheet of the Underlying Asset, the Managing Member may (a) pay such Operating Expenses and seek reimbursement, (b) loan the amount of the Operating Expenses to the Series, on which the Managing Member may impose a reasonable rate of interest, and be entitled to the Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligations, and/or (c) cause additional Interests to be issued in the Series in order to cover such additional amounts.

Limits to Liability; Indemnification of the Managing Member

The Operating Agreement provides that none of the Managing Member, nor any current or former directors, officers, employees, partners, shareholders, members, controlling persons, agents or independent contractors of the Managing Member, nor persons acting at the request of Reental America in certain capacities with respect to other entities (collectively, the “Indemnified Parties”) will be liable to Reental America, any series or any interest holders for any act or omission taken by the Indemnified Parties in connection with the business of Reental America or any series that has not been determined in a final, non-appealable decision of a court, arbitrator or other tribunal of competent jurisdiction to constitute fraud, willful misconduct or gross negligence.

Each series will indemnify the Indemnified Parties out of its assets against all liabilities and losses (including amounts paid in respect of judgments, fines, penalties or settlement of litigation, including legal fees and expenses) to which they become subject by virtue of services performed with respect to Reental America or such series and with respect to any act or omission that has not been determined by a final, non-appealable decision of a court, arbitrator or other tribunal of competent jurisdiction to constitute fraud, willful misconduct or gross negligence.

Management Fees

The Managing Member will not be entitled to receive or purchase any Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens in connection with its role as Managing Member; however, the Managing Member will receive a tokenization fee between five percent (5%) and ten percent (10%) of the Note Amount..

Asset Liquidity

Security Token Benefits to Liquidity

Fractional Ownership: The fractional ownership of individual assets through digital tokenization enables Borrowers to offer securities at lower unit prices which allows for greater participation across a wider range of investors.

Greater Access to Liquidity: The usage of programmable securities for ReentalTokens serves to reduce frictions associated with liquidity in the marketplace. It is through the usage of smart contracts that security tokens like the ReentalToken can deliver on improved efficiency associated with transfer as well as the straightforward handling of contractual legal and tax obligations typical of these types of investments.

Access to Alternative Trading Systems (“ATs”): ReentalToken plans to list individual Series ReentalTokens on participating SEC regulated exchanges or ATs in the future. This will provide holders with a compliant mechanism to transfer ReentalTokens outside of the framework of ReentalToken website, without having to worry about a liquidation of the asset or having to rely on peer-to-peer exchanges.

Faster Trade Settlement: ReentalTokens utilize a streamlined compliance process that makes it easier to onboard while codifying investor eligibility within a smart contract. This also enables near-instantaneous trade settlement for secondary transactions following restricted securities holding periods and a less onerous experience for approved investors.

Allocations of Expenses

To the extent relevant, Offering Expenses, Acquisition Expenses, Operating Expenses, revenue generated from underlying assets and any indemnification payments made by Reental America will be allocated among the various Series interests in accordance with the Managing Member’s allocation policy. The allocation policy requires the Managing Member to allocate items that are allocable to a specific Series to be borne by, or distributed to (as applicable), the applicable Series of interests. If, however, an item is not allocable to a specific Series but to Reental America in general, it will be allocated pro rata based on the value of underlying assets or the number of interests, as reasonably determined by the Managing Member or as otherwise set forth in the allocation policy.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Managing Member may revise and up17 July 2025 the allocation policy from time to time in its reasonable discretion without further notice to the Investors.

SECURITIES BEING OFFERED

The following is a summary of the principal terms of the Series, and is qualified by reference to, the Operating Agreement, attached hereto as Exhibit A, the Series RNT DNB-1, attached hereto as Exhibit B, and the subscription agreement, attached hereto as Exhibit C, relating to the purchase of the Series RNT DNB-1 RentalTokens. This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the detailed provisions of those agreements, which should be reviewed in their entirety by each prospective Investor. In the event that the provisions of this summary differ from the provisions of the Operating Agreement or the subscription agreement (as applicable), the provisions of the Operating Agreement or the subscription agreement (as applicable) shall apply. Capitalized terms used in this summary that are not defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in the Operating Agreement.

Description of the Interests

Reental America is a series limited liability company formed pursuant to Section 18-215 of the LLC Act. The purchase of the Interests is an investment only in the Series and not an investment in Rental America as a whole. In accordance with the LLC Act, the Interests are, and any other series of interests if issued in the future will be, a separate series of limited liability company interests of Rental America and not in a separate legal entity, although for purposes of accounting, taxation and liability, each Series is treated as a single legal entity. Rental America has not issued, and will not issue, any class of series interests entitled to any preemptive, preferential or other rights that are not otherwise available to the Interest Holders purchasing Interest in connection with this Offering.

Title to the underlying assets will be held by, or for the benefit of, the applicable series of interests. We intend that each series of interests will own its own underlying asset, which will be a single real estate property or promissory agreement. We do not anticipate that the Series will acquire any other real estate property or promissory agreement other than the Underlying Asset. A new series of interests will be issued for each future real estate property or promissory agreement to be acquired by Rental America. An Investor who invests in this Offering will not have any indirect interest in any asset other than the Underlying Asset unless the investor also participates in a separate offering associated with that other underlying asset.

Section 18-215(b) of the LLC Act provides that, if certain conditions are met (including that certain provisions are in the formation and governing documents of the series limited liability company, and if the records maintained for any such series account for the assets associated with such series separately from the assets of the limited liability company, or any other series), then the debts, liabilities, obligations and expenses incurred, contracted for or otherwise existing with respect to a particular series shall be enforceable only against the assets of such series and not against the assets of the limited liability company generally or any other series. Accordingly, Rental America expects the Managing Member to maintain separate, distinct records for each series and its associated assets and liabilities. As such, the assets of a series include only the real estate property associated with that series and other related assets (e.g., cash reserves). As noted in the "Risk Factors" section, the limitations on inter-series liability provided by Section 18-215(b) have never been tested in federal bankruptcy courts and it is possible that a bankruptcy court could determine that the assets of one series of interests should be applied to meet the liabilities of the other series of interests or the liabilities of Rental America generally where the assets of such other series of interests or of Rental America generally are insufficient to meet Rental America's liabilities.

Section 18-215(c) of the LLC Act provides that a series of interests established in accordance with Section 18-215(b) may carry on any lawful business, purpose or activity, other than the business of banking, and has the power and capacity to, in its own name, contract, hold title to assets (including real, personal and intangible property), grant liens and security interests, and sue and be sued. Rental America intends for each series of interests to conduct its business and enter into contracts in its own name to the extent such activities are undertaken with respect to a particular series and title to the relevant underlying asset will be held by, or for the benefit of, the relevant series.

All of the Interests offered by this Memorandum will be duly authorized and validly issued. Upon payment in full of the consideration payable with respect to the Interests, as determined by the Managing Member, the Interest Holders will not be liable to Rental America to make any additional capital contributions with respect to the Series (except for the return of distributions under certain circumstances as required by Sections 18-215, 18-607 and 18-804 of the LLC Act). Holders of the Interests have no conversion, exchange, sinking fund, redemption or appraisal rights, no pre-emptive rights to subscribe for any Interests and no preferential rights to distributions.

In general, the Interest Holders (which may include Rental America's affiliates or the Borrowers) will participate exclusively in 100% of the available Free Cash Flow derived from the Underlying Asset (as described in "—Distribution Rights" below). Rental America's affiliates may acquire for the same price as all other Investors of RentalToken Interests in the Offering. Reental America's affiliates may sell its Interests purchased in the Offering from time to time after the final Closing of the Offering.

An Investor in this Offering will acquire an ownership interest in the Series and not, for the avoidance of doubt, in (i) Reental America, (ii) any other series of interests other than the Series, (iii) the Managing Member, (iv) the ReentalToken Website or (v) the Underlying Asset or any underlying asset owned by any other series of interest. Although our ReentalTokens will not immediately be listed on a stock exchange or alternative trading system ("ATS") and a liquid market in the ReentalTokens cannot be guaranteed, we plan to create our own trading platform or partner with an existing website to allow for trading of the ReentalTokens (please review additional risks related to liquidity in the "Risk Factors" section).

Further Issuance of Interests

Only the Interests are being offered and sold pursuant to this Memorandum. The Operating Agreement provides that Reental America may issue a maximum of 11,000 Interests to no more than 11,000 purchasers (no more than 500 of which may be non-accredited investors). The Manager has the option to issue additional Interests (in addition to those issued in connection with this Offering) on the same terms as the Interests offered hereunder as is required from time to time in order to pay any Operating Expenses which exceed revenue generated from the Underlying Asset.

Distribution Rights

The Manager has sole discretion in determining what distributions of Free Cash Flow, if any, are made to Interest Holders except as otherwise limited by law or the Operating Agreement. Reental America expects the Manager to distribute any Free Cash Flow on a semi-annual basis as set forth below. However, the Manager may change the timing of distributions or determine that no distributions shall be made in its sole discretion.

Any Free Cash Flow generated by the Series from the ownership and leasing of the Underlying Asset shall be applied, with respect to the Series, in the following order of priority:

- repay any amounts outstanding under Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation plus accrued interest;
- thereafter, to create such reserves as the Manager deems necessary, in its sole discretion, to meet future Operating Expenses; and
- thereafter, 100% (net of corporate income taxes applicable to the Series) by way of distribution to the Interest Holders, which may include the Borrowers of the Underlying Asset or Reental America's affiliates.

Monthly Income collected from the Underlying Asset, net of the 5% fee to be paid to the Managing Member and other Operating Expenses, will be distributed as a dividend to be declared every month and paid to persons who are ReentalToken Record Holders on the day of declaration. The Manager reserves the right to change the timing of these distributions in its sole discretion.

The LLC Act (Section 18-607) provides that a member who receives a distribution with respect to a series and knew at the time of the distribution that the distribution was in violation of the LLC Act shall be liable to the series for the amount of the distribution for three years. Under the LLC Act, a series limited liability company may not make a distribution with respect to a series to a member if, after the distribution, all liabilities of such series, other than liabilities to members on account of their limited liability company interests with respect to such series and liabilities for which the recourse of creditors is limited to specific property of such series, would exceed the fair value of the assets of such series. For the purpose of determining the fair value of the assets of the series, the LLC Act provides that the fair value of property of the series subject to liability for which recourse of creditors is limited shall be included in the assets of such series only to the extent that the fair value of that property exceeds the nonrecourse liability. Under the LLC Act, an assignee who becomes a substituted member of a company is liable for the obligations of his assignor to make contributions to Reental America, except the assignee is not obligated for liabilities unknown to it at the time the assignee became a member and that could not be ascertained from the operating agreement.

No Redemption Provisions

The Interests are not redeemable.

No Registration Rights

There are no registration rights in respect of the Interests.

Limited Voting Rights

The Managing Member is not required to hold an annual meeting of interest holders. The Operating Agreement provides that meetings of interest holders may be called by the Managing Member and a designee of the Managing Member shall act as chairman at such meetings. Interest holders do not have any voting rights as an interest holder in Reental America or a series except with respect to:

- the dissolution of Reental America upon the for-cause removal of the Managing Member; and
- an amendment to the Operating Agreement that would:
 - o give any person the right to dissolve Reental America.

When entitled to vote on a matter proposed by the Managing Member, each interest holder will be entitled to one vote per interest held by it on all matters submitted to a vote of the interest holders of an applicable series, as applicable.

The consent of the holders of a majority of the Interests is required for any amendment to the Operating Agreement that would adversely change the rights of the Series, result in mergers, consolidations or conversions of the Series and for any other matter as the Managing Member, in its sole discretion, determines will require the approval of the Interest Holders voting as a separate class.

Reental America's affiliates (if they hold interests of a series) may vote as an interest holder in respect of any matter put to the interest holders. The submission of any action of Reental America or a series for a vote of the interest holders shall first be approved by the Managing Member and no amendment to the Operating Agreement may be made without the prior approval of the Managing Member that would decrease the rights of the Managing Member or increase the obligations of the Managing Member thereunder.

The Managing Member has broad authority to take action with respect to Reental America and any series. See "Directors, Executive Officers and Significant Employees—The Managing Member" for more information. Except as set forth above, the Managing Member may amend the Operating Agreement without the approval of the interest holders to, among other things, reflect the following:

- the merger of Reental America, or the conveyance of all of the assets to, a newly-formed entity if the sole purpose of that merger or conveyance is to effect a mere change in the legal form into another limited liability entity;
- a change that the Managing Member determines to be necessary or appropriate to implement any state or federal statute, rule, guidance or opinion;
- a change that the Managing Member determines to be necessary, desirable or appropriate to facilitate the trading of interests;
- a change that the Managing Member determines to be necessary or appropriate for Reental America to qualify as a limited liability company under the laws of any state or to ensure that each series will continue to qualify as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes;
- an amendment that the Managing Member determines, based upon the advice of counsel, to be necessary or appropriate to prevent Reental America, the Managing Member, or the officers, agents or trustees from in any manner being subjected to the provisions of the Investment Company Act, the Investment Advisers Act or "plan asset" regulations adopted under ERISA, whether or not substantially similar to plan asset regulations currently applied or proposed;
- any amendment that the Managing Member determines to be necessary or appropriate for the authorization, establishment, creation or issuance of any additional series;
- an amendment effected, necessitated or contemplated by a merger agreement that has been approved under the terms of the Operating Agreement;
- any amendment that the Managing Member determines to be necessary or appropriate for the formation by Reental America of, or its investment in, any corporation, partnership or other entity, as otherwise permitted by the Operating Agreement;
- a change in the fiscal year or taxable year and related changes; and

- any other amendments which the Managing Member deems necessary or appropriate to enable the Managing Member to exercise its authority under the Agreement.

In each case, the Managing Member may make such amendments to the Operating Agreement provided the Managing Member determines that those amendments:

- do not adversely affect the interest holders (including any particular series of interests as compared to other series of interests) in any material respect;
- are necessary or appropriate to satisfy any requirements, conditions or guidelines contained in any opinion, directive, order, ruling or regulation of any federal or state agency or judicial authority or contained in any federal or state statute;
- are necessary or appropriate to facilitate the trading of interests or to comply with any rule, regulation, guideline or requirement of any securities exchange on which the interests may be listed for trading, compliance with any of which the Managing Member deems to be in the best interests of Reental America and the interest holders;
- are necessary or appropriate for any action taken by the Managing Member relating to splits or combinations of interests under the provisions of the Operating Agreement; or
- are required to effect the intent expressed in this Memorandum or the intent of the provisions of the Operating Agreement or are otherwise contemplated by the Operating Agreement.

Furthermore, the Managing Member retains sole discretion to create and set the terms of any new series and will have the sole power to acquire, manage and dispose of underlying asset of each series.

Liquidation Rights

The Operating Agreement provides that Reental America shall remain in existence until the earlier of the following: (i) the election of the Managing Member to dissolve it; (ii) the sale, exchange or other disposition of substantially all of the assets of Reental America; (iii) the entry of a decree of judicial dissolution of Reental America; and (iv) at any time that Reental America no longer has any members, unless the business is continued in accordance with the LLC Act. Under no circumstances may Reental America be wound up in accordance with Section 18-801(a)(3) of the LLC Act (i.e., the vote of members who hold more than two-thirds of the interests in the profits of Reental America).

A series shall remain in existence until the earlier of the following: (i) the dissolution of Reental America, (ii) the election of the Managing Member to dissolve such series; (iii) the sale, exchange or other disposition of substantially all of the assets of the series; or (iv) at any time that the series no longer has any members, unless the business is continued in accordance with the LLC Act. Under no circumstances may a series of interests be wound up in accordance with Section 18-801(a)(3) of the LLC Act (i.e., the vote of members holding more than two-thirds of the interests in the profits of the series of interests).

Upon the occurrence of any such event, the Managing Member (or a liquidator selected by the Managing Member) is charged with winding up the affairs of the series of interests or Reental America as a whole, as applicable, and liquidating its assets. Upon the liquidation of a series of interests or Reental America as a whole, as applicable, the underlying assets will be liquidated and any after-tax proceeds distributed: (i) first, to any third party creditors, (ii) second, to any creditors that are the Managing Member or its affiliates (e.g., payment of any outstanding Operating Expenses Reimbursement Obligation), and thereafter, 100% to the interest holders of the relevant series of interests, allocated pro rata based on the number of interests held by each interest holder (which may include Reental America's affiliates and the Borrower and which distribution within a series will be made consistent with any preferences which may exist within such series).

Transfer Restrictions

The Interests are subject to restrictions on transferability. An Interest Holder may not transfer, assign or pledge its Interests without the consent of the Managing Member. The Managing Member may withhold consent in its sole discretion, including when the Managing Member determines that such transfer, assignment or pledge would result in (a) there being more than 2,000 beneficial owners of the Series or more than 500 beneficial owners of the Series that are not "accredited investors," (b) the assets of the Series being deemed "plan assets" for purposes of ERISA, (c) result in a change of US federal income tax treatment of Reental America and the Series, or (d) Reental America, the Series or the Managing Member being subject to additional regulatory requirements. The transferring interest holder is responsible for all costs and expenses arising in connection with any proposed transfer (regardless of whether such sale is completed) including any legal fees incurred by Reental America or any broker or dealer, any costs or expenses in connection with any opinion of counsel and any transfer taxes and filing fees.

Additionally, unless and until the Interests of Reental America are listed or quoted for trading, there are restrictions on the holder's ability to the pledge or transfer the Interests. There can be no assurance that we will, or will be able to, register the Interests for resale. Therefore, Investors may be required to hold their Interests indefinitely. Please refer to the subscription agreement (Exhibit C) for additional information regarding these restrictions. The Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken smart contracts, issued in this Offering to evidence the Interests, will incorporate a legend setting forth these restrictions on transfer and any legends required by state or foreign securities laws.

Agreement to be Bound by the Operating Agreement; Power of Attorney

By purchasing Interests, the Investor will be admitted as a member of Reental America and will be bound by the provisions of, and deemed to be a party to, the Operating Agreement. Pursuant to the Operating Agreement, each Investor grants to the Managing Member a power of attorney to, among other things, execute and file documents required for Reental America's qualification, continuance or dissolution. The power of attorney also grants the Managing Member the authority to make certain amendments to, and to execute and deliver such other documents as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions or purposes of, the Operating Agreement.

Duties of Officers

The Operating Agreement provides that, except as may otherwise be provided by the Operating Agreement, the property, affairs and business of each series of interests will be managed under the direction of the Manager. The Managing Member has the power to appoint the officers and such officers have the authority and exercise the powers and perform the duties specified in the Operating Agreement or as may be specified by the Managing Member. The Managing Member will be appointed as the Manager of each series of interests to manage the underlying assets.

Books and Reports

Reental America will keep appropriate books of the business at its principal offices. The books will be maintained for both tax and financial reporting purposes on a basis that permits the preparation of financial statements in accordance with GAAP. For financial reporting purposes and tax purposes, the fiscal year and the tax year are the calendar year, unless otherwise determined by the Managing Member in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code.

Series RNT DNB-1 will elect and be qualified, and the Company intends that each future Series will elect and qualify, to be taxed as a corporation under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

We will provide annual and semi-annual financial reports and periodic up17 July 2025s electronically through the ReentalToken Website. As documents and periodic up17 July 2025s become available, we will notify Interest Holders of this by sending the Interest Holders an email message or a message through the ReentalToken Website that will include instructions on how to retrieve the periodic up17 July 2025s and documents. If our email notification is returned to us as "undeliverable," we will contact the Interest Holder to obtain an up17 July 2025d email address. We will provide Interest Holders with copies via email or paper copies at any time upon request. The contents of the ReentalToken Website are not incorporated by reference in or otherwise a part of this Memorandum.

Documentation will be separately available via the use of the IPFS. IPFS provides a high-throughput, content-addressed block storage model, with content-addressed hyperlinks. Through IPFS, all necessary documents that prove ownership of the real estate by ReentalToken Interest Holders can be accessible on the Ethereum blockchain via the internet at any time, by anyone, from anywhere. Reental America expects to implement an IPFS system for the documentation of the Series investments at some time in the future. Details describing this process will be provided to Interest Holders.

Exclusive Jurisdiction

Any dispute in relation to the Operating Agreement is subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery of the State of Floridare, and each Investor will covenant and agree not to bring any such claim in any other venue. If an Interest Holder were to bring a claim against Reental America or the Managing Member pursuant to the Operating Agreement, it would have to do so in the Floridare Court of Chancery.

ReentalTokens; Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens

In this Offering Interests will be issued in the form of ReentalTokens, and the Series ReentalTokens will be issued as Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. The terms of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are derived from the smart contracts and our Operating Agreement and Series RNT DNB-1.

The Series Interests will be issued in the form of electronic, digital tokens, which are effectively digital limited liability company membership interests. The Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be issued as Ethereum-based smart contracts on the Ethereum Blockchain. The Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be a new series of Ethereum-based smart contract digital tokens meeting the ERC-20 protocol standard as modified to meet transfer restriction requirements under applicable U.S. securities law. Although we are currently proposing that the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will use the Ethereum Blockchain, we reserve the right, in our sole discretion, to issue Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens on another blockchain network under a different, non-ERC smart contract token protocol.

As of the 17 July 2025 of this Memorandum, no Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens have been issued. After giving effect to this Offering, it is expected that 11,000 Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens representing the same number of Interests will be issued and outstanding.

As the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are digital representations of our Interests. The rights of holders of our Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens come from two sources: our Operating Agreement and Series RNT DNB-1, which sets out the terms of the Interests, whether held in token form or not, and the ERC-20 smart contract, as modified to meet transfer restriction requirements under applicable U.S. securities law, which establishes the terms upon which Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens holders will hold the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. There is no substantive difference between the rights of Interests held as Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens and the rights of Interests held directly. Other than specifying the manner of holding and transfer of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, the smart contract does not confer any rights or restrictions on the holders of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens that differ from those of investors not holding Interests in token form.

Each Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens confers upon the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens holder the same rights conferred upon a holder of one Interests, that is:

- The limited right to one vote at a meeting of the Members of Reental America or the Series or on any resolution of shareholders, as described in the Operating Agreement and Series RNT DNB-1;
- The right to an equal share in any dividend paid by the Series; and
- The right to an equal share in the distribution of the surplus assets of Reental America on its liquidation.

The Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be delivered to Digital Wallet addresses on the Ethereum Blockchain and governed by the ReentalToken smart contracts. We do not control the Ethereum Blockchain or the Investors' Digital Wallets.

The protocol, or code, for the ReentalToken smart contracts is based on the ERC-20 standard, modified to meet transfer restriction requirements under applicable U.S. securities law and to limit the ability of Digital Wallet holders to transfer or otherwise change the number of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens in a Digital Wallet. Our code for the ReentalToken smart contracts, which is proprietary and will not be published at this time, has been created under the ERC-20 protocol, modified for compliance with applicable securities laws governing the transfer and sale of securities. Our ERC-20 based code is fully developed and available to be used as the basis for our ReentalToken smart contracts. The ownership of Interests recorded by the ReentalToken smart contracts may be changed only by the Series. Investors who have lost access to their Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens (for a number of reasons) may have their Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens cancelled and re-issued upon providing the Series with a signed notarized sworn affidavit attached to the letter explaining the loss and providing a new Ethereum Digital Wallet address (if required). The Series will make publicly available the number of securities issued on the Ethereum Blockchain.

We do not expect to have a cybersecurity audit performed on the ReentalToken smart contract. We believe that because all purchasers of the ReentalTokens will be whitelisted and all transactions in the ReentalTokens recorded, tracked and reversible, the risk of loss from the possible hacking of a ReentalToken smart contract or a digital wallet holding ReentalTokens will be mitigated.

Because the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens represent our Interests, there is no limitation embedded in the ReentalToken smart contracts on the number of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens that can be created. The overall potential number of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be a function of corporate law and will be increased or fractionalized in accordance with laws of the State of Florida and our Operating Agreement and Series RNT DNB-1.

Initially, under the terms of the ReentalToken smart contracts, a single Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken may not be divided into fractions of a token and only whole Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may be transferred or accepted. We may in the future, however, determine to allow the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens to be fractionalized up to ten (10) decimal places.

Our ReentalToken smart contract architecture consists of three components – an underlying asset contract, a security token contract and a KYC/AML registry. A detailed discussion of this ReentalToken smart contract framework is set forth in Appendix B attached hereto.

Listing

The Interests, evidenced by the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, are restricted securities and are not currently listed or quoted for trading on any national securities exchange, ATS or national quotation system.

We intend to list Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens in the future on one or more ATSs or other exchanges which are registered with the SEC to trade unregistered securities and have the technological capability to handle security token trading. If Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are listed on any such exchange, one or more of our affiliates (or other parties) may engage in market-making activities with respect to Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. No assurance can be made that our attempts to list Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens on any such ATS or other exchange will be successful or that an active trading market for Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will develop, or if one develops, be maintained. Currently, there is no public market for Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens and a market may never develop, which could cause Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens to trade at a discount and make it difficult for holders of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens to sell them.

Securities Law Restrictions

Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens have not been registered under the Securities Act or any securities laws of any state or any jurisdiction anywhere in the world, and, unless so registered, Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens may not be offered or sold except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and such other applicable securities laws. As a result, Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are being offered and sold only in jurisdictions where such registration or qualification is not required, including pursuant to applicable exemptions that generally limit the investors who are eligible to purchase Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens and that restrict the resale of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens. Accordingly, Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are being initially offered and sold only (1) to “accredited investors” (as defined under Regulation D) in compliance with Regulation D, in each case, in a private transaction in reliance on the exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act provided by Regulation D under the Securities Act, and (2) outside the United States to investors who are not “U.S. persons” in offshore transactions in reliance upon Regulation S under the Securities Act

Digital Notices

The Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens are digital instruments and, as such, will not contain legends. However, purchasers (including secondary purchasers) of Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens will be presented with the information regarding restrictions on transfer of the Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalTokens, including the legends set forth below, and, at a minimum, must affirmatively signal their understanding of the information and provide Reental America with certain representations on their investor status and location. Each Series RNT DNB-1 ReentalToken will incorporate legends substantially to the following effect:

THIS SECURITY, I.E., THE TOKEN (THE “TOKENS”), HAVE NOT BEEN AND WILL NOT BE REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”), OR THE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OR OTHER JURISDICTION. NEITHER THIS SECURITY, NOR ANY INTEREST OR PARTICIPATION HEREIN, MAY BE OFFERED, SOLD, ASSIGNED, TRANSFERRED, PLEDGED, ENCUMBERED OR OTHERWISE DISPOSED OF UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES. EACH HOLDER OF THIS SECURITY, BY ITS ACCEPTANCE HEREOF REPRESENTS THAT (A) IT IS AN “ACCREDITED INVESTOR” (AS DEFINED IN REGULATION D UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT) OR (B) IT IS NOT A “U.S. PERSON” AND IS ACQUIRING THIS SECURITY IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION WITHIN THE MEANING OF REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS APPLICABLE TO IT IN THE JURISDICTION IN WHICH SUCH ACQUISITION IS MADE.

THE TOKENS WHEN ISSUED WILL BE ISSUED IN A TRANSACTION EXEMPT FROM REGISTRATION UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT, AND MAY NOT BE TRANSFERRED IN THE UNITED STATES OR TO, OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF, ANY U.S. PERSON (AS DEFINED IN REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT (“REGULATION S”)) EXCEPT PURSUANT TO AN AVAILABLE EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE SECURITIES ACT AND ALL APPLICABLE STATE SECURITIES LAWS. EXCEPT AS SET FORTH BELOW, THE TOKENS SHALL NOT BE EXCHANGEABLE FOR TOKENS THAT ARE NOT SUBJECT TO A LEGEND CONTAINING RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFER UNTIL THE EXPIRATION OF THE APPLICABLE ONE-YEAR “DISTRIBUTION COMPLIANCE PERIOD” (WITHIN THE MEANING OF REGULATION S) AND THEN ONLY UPON CERTIFICATION IN A FORM REASONABLY SATISFACTORY TO BORROWER AND ITS TRANSFER AGENT, IF ANY, THAT SUCH TOKENS ARE OWNED EITHER BY NON-U.S. PERSONS OR U.S. PERSONS WHO PURCHASED SUCH INTERESTS IN A TRANSACTION THAT DID NOT REQUIRE REGISTRATION UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT. THE HOLDER OF ANY TOKENS AGREES TO OFFER, SELL OR OTHERWISE TRANSFER SUCH TOKENS, PRIOR TO THE EXPIRATION OF THE APPLICABLE ONE-YEAR HOLDING PERIOD WITH RESPECT TO RESTRICTED SECURITIES SET FORTH IN RULE 144 UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT (THE “RESALE RESTRICTION TERMINATION 17 July 2025”), ONLY (A) TO BORROWER OR ANY OF BORROWER’S AFFILIATES, (B) PURSUANT TO A COMPLIANT REGULATION S SALE, OR (C) PURSUANT TO A REGISTRATION STATEMENT THAT HAS BEEN DECLARED EFFECTIVE UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT, SUBJECT, IN EACH OF THE FOREGOING CASES, TO ANY REQUIREMENT OF LAW THAT THE DISPOSITION OF ITS PROPERTY OR THE PROPERTY OF SUCH PURCHASER ACCOUNT OR ACCOUNTS BE AT ALL TIMES WITHIN ITS OR THEIR CONTROL AND, IN EACH CASE, IN COMPLIANCE WITH APPLICABLE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY APPLICABLE JURISDICTION. HEDGING TRANSACTIONS INVOLVING THE TOKENS MAY NOT BE CONDUCTED UNLESS IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE SECURITIES ACT.

All the material terms in the smart contracts have been disclosed in this section.

MATERIAL UNITED STATES TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The following is a summary of the material United States federal income tax consequences of the ownership and disposition of the Interests to United States holders but does not purport to be a complete analysis of all the potential tax considerations relating thereto. This summary is based upon the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), Treasury regulations promulgated thereunder, administrative rulings and judicial decisions, all as of the 17 July 2025 hereof. These authorities may be changed, possibly retroactively, so as to result in United States federal income tax consequences different from those set forth below. We have not sought any ruling from the Internal Revenue Service (the “IRS”), with respect to the statements made and the conclusions reached in the following summary, and there can be no assurance that the IRS will agree with such statements and conclusions.

This summary also does not address the tax considerations arising under the laws of any United States state or local or any non-United States jurisdiction or under United States federal gift and estate tax laws. In addition, this discussion does not address tax considerations applicable to an Investor’s particular circumstances or to Investors that may be subject to special tax rules, including, without limitation:

- banks, insurance companies or other financial institutions;
- persons subject to the alternative minimum tax;
- tax-exempt organizations;
- dealers in securities or currencies;
- traders in securities that elect to use a mark-to-market method of accounting for their securities holdings;
- certain former citizens or long-term residents of the United States;
- persons who hold the Interests as a position in a hedging transaction, “straddle,” “conversion transaction” or other risk reduction transaction;
- persons who do not hold the Interests as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code (generally, for investment purposes); or
- persons deemed to sell the Interests under the constructive sale provisions of the Code.

In addition, if a partnership, including any entity or arrangement, domestic or foreign, classified as a partnership for United States federal income tax purposes, holds Interests, the tax treatment of a partner generally will depend on the status of the partner and upon the activities of the partnership. Accordingly, partnerships that hold Interests, and partners in such partnerships, should consult their tax advisors.

You are urged to consult your tax advisor with respect to the application of the United States federal income tax laws to your particular situation, as well as any tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the Interests arising under the United States federal estate or gift tax rules or under the laws of any United States state or local or any foreign taxing jurisdiction or under any applicable tax treaty.

Taxation of Each Series of Interests as a “C” Corporation

Reental America, although formed as a Floridare series limited liability company eligible for tax treatment as a “partnership,” has affirmatively elected for each series of interests to be taxed as a “C” corporation under Subchapter C of the Code for all federal and state tax purposes. Thus, each series of interests will be taxed at regular corporate rates on its income before making any distributions to interest holders as described below.

Taxation of Distributions to Investors

A “U.S. Holder” includes a beneficial owner of Interests that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, an individual citizen or resident of the United States.

Distributions to U.S. Holders out of the Series' current or accumulated earnings and profits will be taxable as dividends. A U.S. Holder who receives a distribution constituting "qualified dividend income" may be eligible for reduced federal income tax rates on that distribution. U.S. Holders are urged to consult their tax advisors regarding the characterization of corporate distributions as "qualified dividend income." Distributions in excess of the Series' current and accumulated earnings and profits will not be taxable to a U.S. Holder to the extent that the distributions do not exceed the adjusted tax basis of the U.S. Holder's Interests. Rather, such distributions will reduce the adjusted basis of such U.S. Holder's Interests. Distributions in excess of current and accumulated earnings and profits that exceed the U.S. Holder's adjusted basis in its Interests will be taxable as capital gain in the amount of such excess if the Interests are held as a capital asset. In addition, under Section 1411 of the Code, a U.S. Holder may be subject to an additional 3.8% tax (the "3.8% NIIT") on certain investment income. In general, in the case of individuals, this tax is equal to 3.8% of the lesser of (i) the taxpayer's "net investment income" or

(ii) the excess of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income over the applicable threshold amount ($250,000 for married taxpayers filing a joint return, $121,000 for married individuals filing separate returns and $200,000 for most other taxpayers). In the case of an estate or trust, the 3.8% tax will be imposed on the lesser of (x) the undistributed net investment income of the estate or trust for the taxable year, or (y) the excess of the adjusted gross income of the estate or trust for such taxable year over a beginning dollar amount (currently $12,750) of the highest tax bracket for such year). Under Section 1411(c) of the Code, dividends are included as investment income in the determination of "net investment income."

Holders of Interests who are not U.S. Holders (for example, non-U.S. individuals or corporations) may be subject to U.S. withholding tax on dividend payments at 30 percent (or a lower rate fixed by treaty between the United States and the Holder's country of residence). The rules relating to taxation of non-U.S. persons holding interests in a U.S. corporation are highly complex, and non-U.S. holders are strongly urged to consult their own tax advisors as to the potential federal income tax consequences of ownership of the Interests.

Taxation of Dispositions of Interests

Upon any taxable sale or other disposition of Interests, a U.S. Holder will recognize gain or loss for federal income tax purposes on the disposition in an amount equal to the difference between the amount of cash and the fair market value of any property received on such disposition; and the U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in the Interests. A U.S. Holder's adjusted tax basis in the Interests generally equals his or her initial amount paid for the Interests and decreased by the amount of any distributions to the Investor in excess of Reental America's current or accumulated earnings and profits. In computing gain or loss, the proceeds that U.S. Holders receive will include the amount of any cash and the fair market value of any other property received for their Interests, and the amount of any actual or deemed relief from indebtedness encumbering their Interests. The gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if the Interests are held for more than one year before disposition. Long-term capital gains of individuals, estates and trusts currently are taxed at a maximum rate of 20% (plus any applicable state income taxes) plus the 3.8% NIIT. The deductibility of capital losses may be subject to limitation and depends on the circumstances of a particular U.S. Holder; the effect of such limitation may be to defer or to eliminate any tax benefit that might otherwise be available from a loss on a disposition of the Interests. Capital losses are first deducted against capital gains, and, in the case of non-corporate taxpayers, any remaining such losses are deductible against salaries or other income from services or income from portfolio investments only to the extent of $3,000 per year.

Dispositions of Interests by non-U.S. Holders are generally not subject to federal income tax, unless held in the conduct of a U.S. trade or business or through a U.S. office or other place of business. The rules relating to taxation of non-U.S. persons holding interests in a U.S. corporation are highly complex, and non-U.S. holders are strongly urged to consult their own tax advisors as to the potential federal income tax of any disposition of Interests.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

Generally, Reental America and/or the Series must report annually to the IRS the amount of dividends paid to you, your name and address, and the amount of tax withheld, if any. A similar report will be sent to you.

Payments of dividends or of proceeds on the disposition of the Interests made to you may be subject to additional information reporting and backup withholding at a current rate of 28% unless you establish an exemption. Notwithstanding the foregoing, backup withholding and information reporting may apply if either we or our paying agent has actual knowledge, or reason to know, that you are a United States person.

Backup withholding is not an additional tax; rather, the United States income tax liability of persons subject to backup withholding will be reduced by the amount of tax withheld. If withholding results in an overpayment of taxes, a refund or credit may generally be obtained from the IRS, provided that the required information is furnished to the IRS in a timely manner.

The preceding discussion of United States federal tax considerations is for general information only. It is not tax advice. Each prospective Investor should consult its own tax advisor regarding the particular United States federal, state and local and foreign tax consequences, if applicable, of purchasing, holding and disposing of the Interests, including the consequences of any proposed change in applicable laws.

APPENDIX B - REENTALTOKEN SMART CONTRACT ARCHITECTURE

ReentalToken smart contract development is centered around several open source projects to ensure the quality of our product. Our architecture contains the following core actors:

- Underlying Asset Contract
- Security Token
- KYC Registrar

Underlying Asset Contract

The Underlying Asset Contract contains the Corporation information such as: RentalToken Title Identifier, Company Legal Name, Deed Full Address (if applicable), City, State, Zip Code & Country, Tax Identifier, Owner of the RentalToken Underlying Asset Contract or Custodian, and RentalToken Ethereum Address on Ethereum Main Network

The Underlying Asset Contract is the simplest contract which is the parent of the Security Contract to link the relationship of the RentalTokens. One “Underlying Asset Contract” is deployed per property or promissory agreement. The Underlying Asset Contract contains both the name of the relevant Series, and the physical address of the property owned by the Series or the details of the promissory agreement held by the Series.

Security Tokens

Each Underlying Asset Contract will include the management of a Security Token contract. This contract contains the RentalTokens and total supply. RentalTokens have the ability to be deployed automatically onto the Ethereum Main Network. RentalTokens incorporate an Administration module to create the following:

- Creation of a new Security Token Offering
- Management of the Security Token Offering, sale can be open ended or timed.
- Deployment of the Security Token will be on to the Ethereum Main Network.
- Revoke and Redeploy. This can make the Security Token mutable. Meaning, a RentalToken can be re-deployed to a new Ethereum Network Address, up17 July 2025 the Underlying Asset Contract and cause the previous Security Token to self-destruct, marking it null and void.

Each RentalToken Offering will have a unique label. Contained in the unique label, is the specific token name and related information. For example, the table below describes the properties of the RentalToken Security Token Offering :

Token Symbol	Token Name	Token Supply	Polygon Address Address
--------------	------------	--------------	-------------------------

KYC/AML Registrar

KYC/AML validation will be done off-chain through the Rental America website portal. Once the KYC/AML process is completed and the prospective investor is verified, the investor will be added to an on-chain registry by the KYC Registrar.

All Ethereum Addresses in the on-chain registry will be added automatically. Each Ethereum addressee will have an associated name, viewable in the Rental America administrative portal, and linked to an identification document.

We will also retain a back-up database of the whitelisted investors which will match the on-chain registry.

ReentalToken Transferability

The transferability of all RentalTokens will be dependent on this KYC/AML Registrar whitelist. RentalTokens will only be able to be transferred to addresses that appear in the on-chain registry.

It will be impossible for RentalTokens to be transferred to an Ethereum address that is not listed on the whitelist. The only way for persons to be listed on the whitelist is for them to complete the KYC/AML validation process.

Whitelists will be global, meaning that when an investor in one Series of Rental America is whitelisted and a new Rental America Series Security Token offering is begun, that investor will then be able to participate in the new offering without having to repeat the KYC/AML process. Rental America Series Investors will have to pass the KYC/AML validation every six months to maintain regulatory compliance.

U.S. buyers will be subject to a one-year and one day transferability restriction.
